GEO. E. BRENNAN NEAR DEATH

108 NIGHT LIFE WRITS A SHOCK TO BROADWAY

TexasGuinanAmong Those Indicted.

(Pictures on back page.)

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—The federal grand jury today indicted Texas Guinan and Helen Morgan, night club hostesses, and Niles T. Granlund, radio announcer of station WHN, for alleged conspiracy to violate the prohibition law and maintenance of nuisances.

One hundred and five other persons, waiters, door men, cigar girls, entertainers, and managers of eighteen night clubs in all—were similarly indicted.

This grand jury action surprised Broadway by its wholesale severity. The maximum punishment for conspiracy in dry violations is two years in prison and a fine of $10,000.

Ruled "Smith Victory" Night. The indictments today were the sequel of the secret raids directed by Mayor Mabel Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, on June 29, the night of Gov. Smith's nomination for the presidency.

Aside from an Italian restaurant in Greenwich Village, the eighteen indicted night clubs are in the Roaring Forties and the Frivolous Fifties.

The indictments were unique, according to Assistant District Attorney Arthur H. Schwartz, who, with Robert A. Watts, chief prohibition investigator, presented the case to the grand jury, in that one of the two counts of the indictment charges a conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act.

INFECTED TOOTH IMPERILS PARTY LEADER'S LIFE

Family at Bedside in Hospital.

BULLETIN.

At 7 o'clock this morning the authorities at the John B. Murphy hospital announced that Mr. Brennan had had a good night's rest and they were hopeful it would result in his improvement. He slept from shortly after 1 o'clock until nearly 6. At the latter hour his temperature was 101.5. At 1 o'clock it was 100.4. When he awoke he joked with his nurse about his illness.

George E. Brennan, Democratic national committeeman for Illinois and a leader in Gov. Al Smith's pre-convention presidential campaign, was critically ill last night at the John B. Murphy hospital in Belmont avenue. The Rev. Father Lawrence Lee was called and gave Mr. Brennan the sacrament of extreme unction, the last rite of the Catholic church for the living and usually administered when death seems imminent.

Dr. Karl Meyer was in attendance and there had been a consultation, after which it was said: "Mr. Brennan's condition is very grave." In the consultation with Dr. Meyer were C. R. G. Forrester, Dr. Frederick Moorehead, oral surgeon; Dr. Theodore Tysen, Dr. Vernon David, and Dr. Frank Chaney.

Mrs. Brennan, their daughter, Mary, and State Representative Joseph L. Giff, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Brennan, were at the bedside in constant attendance.

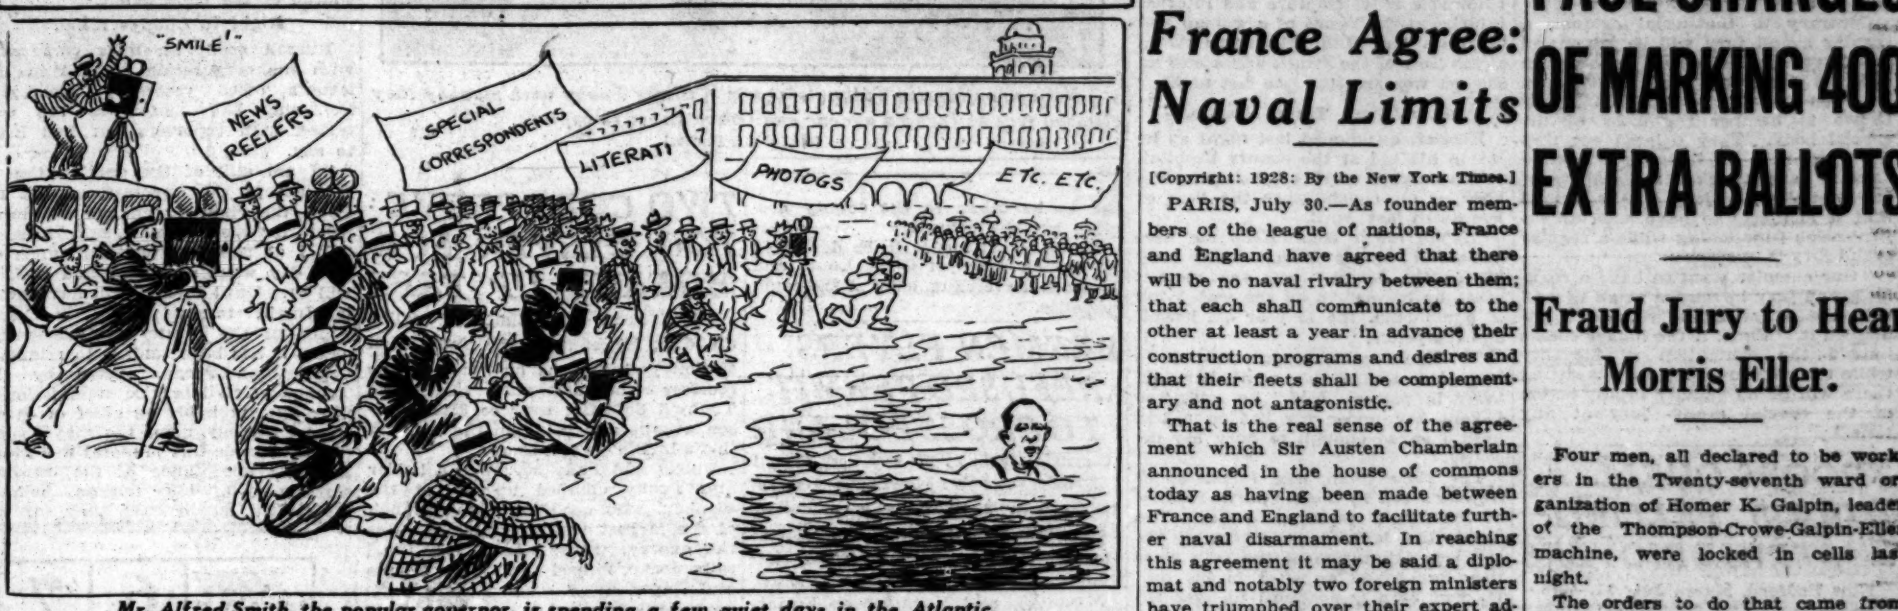

Little Hope of a Rally.

One of Mr. Brennan's closest friends said at 1 a. m. that there was little if any hope of the patient rallying. Previously at intervals the announcement had been made: "There has been no change."

Mr. Brennan's illness was primarily due to an infection that became acute on Thursday, when two of his teeth were extracted. The poison spread rapidly. Mr. Brennan was ill at home for two days. Yesterday morning he was taken to the hospital.

1 KILLED, 4 HURT AS AERIAL BOMB BURSTS IN CROWD

One man was killed and four others sustained burns and contusions last night when an aerial bomb ricocheted from its spar into a crowd of more than 3,000 celebrating Italians and exploded in the old Sportman's ball park at Jefferson and Polk streets.

Michael Parrarra, 33, of 1010 South Aberdeen street, was killed and the following were injured: Joseph Vero, 25, of 446 South Morgan street; Antonio Partillo, 30, of 718 West Taylor street; Michael Raganelli, 29, of 1815 West Taylor street; and Nicholas Mastrodio, 22, of 510 North Carpenter street. Raganelli suffered a fracture of his right thigh; while the others were burned about the legs and cut by bits of flying metal.

The Italians had marched from a three day street fair of the San Nicola Di Bari society in the vicinity of Taylor and Sangamon streets to the ball park to conclude the feast with a display of fireworks. The aerial bomb was set off and clung for a moment to its spar before it burst into the crowd and exploded with a detonation that was heard for several miles. The injured were taken to the Mother Cabrini hospital. Parrarra is survived by his wife and three children in Italy.

FEARS BREAK IN HOLLYWOOD DAM; SUES FOR RELIEF

Los Angeles, Cal., July 30.—[Special.]—David Horsley, today filed a taxpayers' suit to compel the city of Los Angeles to drain Mulholland dam, which stores water high in the mountains overlooking the Hollywood business section. Horsley avers that the dam, which is a concrete sister structure to the ill-fated St. Francis dam, and which towers 600 feet above the Hollywood area, threatens the security of 250,000 persons and $300,000,000 property.

Wilson Leader Deserts Smith On Rum Issue

Hampton Bays, L. I., July 30.—[Special.]—Relative to the Vance McCormick defection Gov. Al Smith said: "I am on vacation and have no reply at this time."

Harrisburg, Pa., July 30.—[U. P.]—The Harrisburg Patriot, published by Vance C. McCormick, who was Democratic national chairman during the second Wilson campaign, will announce editorially tomorrow that it cannot support Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York for president.

The paper repeats the Democratic declaration carried on its editorial page for a quarter of a century pledging itself to support Democratic principles and "the best traditions of that party," but continuing free from the control of any political faction or from any power, corporation or individual which conflicts with the public good.

Asking Too Much.

"It is asking a newspaper loyal to such a pledge and further committed to the sound American doctrine of obedience to the constitution and to the law, to urge the people to support for President a candidate, widely heralded as the hope of the nullificationists and who himself is on record for a program of state interpretation which amounts to nullification and inspiration for lawbreakers, is asking too much. For after all, parties and candidates are appealing only as long as they stand for the well being of the nation as seen by those to whom appeal is made."

"To disregard the constitution and the laws thereon based, or even to encourage such disregard, is destructive to the nation and offensive to the people. It is un-American in spirit and destined to lead to chaos, and the Patriot will not be a party to that."

Gen. Mitchell for Al.

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Eric Gen. William Mitchell, whose vigorous fight for a separate aviation branch of the national defense brought him in conflict with official Washington and resulted in his resignation from the army, appeared at Gov. Smith's headquarters today.

Britain and France Agree: Naval Limits

(Copyright, 1928, By the New York Times.)

PARIS, July 30.—As founder members of the league of nations, France and England have agreed that there will be no naval rivalry between them; that each shall communicate to the other at least a year in advance their construction programs and desires and that their fleets shall be complementary and not antagonistic.

That is the real sense of the agreement which Sir Austen Chamberlain announced in the house of commons today as having been made between France and England to facilitate further naval disarmament. In reaching this agreement it may be said a diplomat and notably two foreign ministers have triumphed over their expert advisers and their admiralty experts.

Might Develop Rivalry.

Sir Austen Chamberlain and M. Briand found that a year ago there was distinct danger that French efforts to reconstruct their fleet might develop features of rivalry. The old quarrel of submarines and capital ships which developed with some acrimony at Washington seemed likely to become more acute as the French continued to build.

It was then that the two makers of the Locarno treaties decided to give real meaning to their alliance as members of the league of nations and have what might be called a regional agreement on the sea.

During the last three months this work has been completed and in its completion Secretary Kellogg's compact proposals have played no small part. What Chamberlain and Briand were doing as members of the league of nations in order to facilitate disarmament work may now possibly be extended. That, however, is for America to decide. In this agreement only Europe was being considered.

Deadlocked Heretofore.

At Geneva all discussions of disarmament have always reached a kind of deadlock on the issues of France's big army and England's big fleet. So long as there was reciprocal bickering on that score there was no hope of that shoving-down process which is all that can really be hoped for some time to come. By this new agreement that bickering has been avoided.

The first step has been made toward recognition of the principle of joint navies and joint armies as a single arm in the service of preservation of peace as enjoined on both countries by their signatures of the league covenant and now also by their acceptance of the Kellogg compact.

MICHIGAN AND ILLINOIS MEN WIN OLYMPIC BOOTS

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—(U. P.)—Kapp of Esthonia threw Clarence Berryman of Oklahoma A. and N. in the quarter finals of the 145 pound class of the Olympic catch-as-catch can wrestling today. The bout lasted four minutes.

In the quarter finals of the 158 pound class, Lloyd O. Appleton of Edgewood, Ia., defeated Frakes of Esthonia by a technical fall. Frakes' shoulder was injured and he was forced to retire. This completed the quarter finals, leaving the United States with a man in six of the seven divisions.

In the first semi-final bout, Robert Hignett of the University of Michigan, competing in the 123 pound class, defeated Piquet of Switzerland by a decision.

Allie R. Morrison of the University of Illinois defeated Piquet of Switzerland by a decision in the 134.5 pound class.

H. L. Edwards, United States naval academy entrant in the 191 pound class, threw Van Asche of Belgium with a body chancery in four minutes and 40 seconds.

In the heavyweight class Ed George of the University of Michigan defeated Wernli of Switzerland by a decision.

$1,224,000 PAID HILLMAN ESTATE IN INSURANCE

The fourth largest life insurance claim paid in the United States last year was that on the life of Edward Hillman, president of the Hillman department store of Chicago, according to the annual tabulation of life insurance payments made public yesterday by the National Underwriter. His policies aggregated $1,224,000. Another Chicagoan who carried heavy insurance was John R. Thompson. His policies totaled $1,029,070 and constituted the eighth largest in the United States. The largest was on the life of R. E. Ruffner of Charleston, W. Va., and amounted to $2,159,000.

New York led in the total insurance payments for the year with $81,000,000. Chicago was second with $38,708,000. Twenty-four claims of $100,000 or more were paid on the lives of Chicagoans.

FACE CHARGES OF MARKING 400 EXTRA BALLOTS

Fraud Jury to Hear Morris Eller.

Four men, all declared to be workers in the Twenty-seventh ward organization of Homer K. Galpin, leader of the Thompson-Crowe-Galpin-Eller machine, were locked in cells last night.

The orders to do that came from David D. Stansbury, first special assistant attorney general on the staff of Chief Special Prosecutor Frank J. Loesch.

The prisoners are charged with ballot box stuffing.

Accused of Stuffing.

By a smooth bit of juggling, according to the prosecutors, they switched 300 fraudulent votes to State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe and the rest of the "America First" ticket for the April 10 primary.

Those held here: Frank Smith, custodian in the office of Bernard W. Snow, bailiff of the Municipal court, who has been charged with obstructing the work of the special grand jury.

James Dwyer, a policeman for the sanitary district board, which is largely controlled by the Galpin-Crowe forces.

Charles Whitman, who claims to be a son of a former attorney general of Illinois, and who runs a grog shop, according to Prosecutor Stansbury.

John Hattisnager, a janitor.

One other man confessed to all the details of the crime, and his name was withheld, another is being sought.

What Prosecutor Charges.

Mr. Stansbury and Capt. John Stagg, who obtained the confession leading to the arrests, revealed that a party of election in the 11th precinct of the 27th—Mr. Galpin's ward—obtained from the election commissioners on the day before primary day, April 10, all the ballots and other supplies necessary to the election.

"That night," Prosecutor Stansbury said, "the judge, who is the man sought, delivered 300 Republican and 200 Democratic ballots to Smith and Whitman, who took them to an old schoolhouse used as a factory. Dwyer was notified to come over, and while the sack was lifted cautiously, the place was enrolled to help. Then Republican ballots were marked for the Crowe-Galpin candidates, and the Democratic ballots for the followers of County Commissioner Maurice Kavanaugh, committeeman of the ward."

"The ballots were taken to the polling place the next day, and hidden in the bottom of a barrel. The barrel was then covered with a bit of sack."

Votes Exceed the Voters.

"There were some 400 voters registered to vote in the precinct, and when about that number had voted, one of the conspirators called attention to the crowded condition of the ballot box. So the barrel was hoisted up, and while the sack was lifted cautiously, all the genuine ballots were dumped on top of the fake ones. Then they were all counted together, and a total of 713 ballots, in this precinct of 400 voters, was found."

Arrests were made by Lieut. Maurice Byrne and Sergt. Frank Sobol. They also brought in Edward Watts, 535 West Lake street, president of the 27th Ward Republican club, which is the front of the Galpin organization.

Watts was questioned about contributions made during the primary by leaders of vice and gambling interests, and in particular about a $200,000 gift said to have been made by one gang chieftain.

He protested ignorance of the contributions, saying he "wasn't that big a fellow to know about such things."

Watts, a candidate for congressman running against Stanley Kuns, was released by Prosecutor Stansbury, but Capt. Stagg said his activities would be further investigated.

Jury to Hear Eller.

Morris Eller, boss of the 20th ward, the scene of many kidnappings and lynchings and frauds on primary day, will be given an opportunity to testify before the special grand jury this afternoon, a privilege he demanded.

Eller has received from Donald De Golyer, foreman of the special grand jury, a letter informing him that he may appear at 3 p. m. Chief Prosecutor Frank Loesch said, however, that Mr. Eller must waive immunity.

He still wants to have his say before the investigating body.

The boss will be questioned by Special Assistant Attorney General Edwin J. Raber, who has spent the last week investigating, working up the evidence against Eller and his son, Judge Emanuel Eller, for the special grand jury. Former Judge Frederick L. Fike, who has been in charge of the presentation of evidence, and Ferre C. Watkins, special assistant attorney general, also will be present.

Police Captain a Witness.

Among those who appeared yesterday to testify was Capt. Daniel Lynch, commander of the Maxwell street police district, in which lies the Eller ward. He was quizzed about vice and gambling conditions on the west side and according to Prosecutor Loesch was an unwilling witness.

Beginning tomorrow, the special grand jury will hold its sessions in the County building and will work full days, instead of the half days now in vogue. Mr. Loesch said speed was necessary in view of the fact that the funds for the special investigation were being expended in part to care for witnesses who had been indicted after telling about conditions in the Twentieth ward. Some of these witnesses were moved to new homes because, he added, their lives had been threatened.

Regular Grand Jury Called.

Contrary to the usual custom, a regular grand jury will be impaneled for August. The special prosecutors asserted yesterday that this was a move on the part of State's Attorney Crowe to hamper the work of the special body. They pointed out that the members of the investigation already have attacked the validity of the special grand jury on the ground that it is illegal to have such an organization functioning while a regular grand jury is in session.

"Our enemies want to have a regular grand jury in session at all times," was the way the investigators explained it. "Then, if the higher courts uphold the contention of illegality while the regular grand jury is sitting, there will be no validity to any action of the special grand jury at any time."

TROOPS QUELL 10,000 YELLING STRIKE RIOTERS

New Bedford, Mass., July 31.—(AP)—Two hundred and fifty pickets were confined in the central police station as the result of a clash with authorities that eventually called out a company of coast artillery to disperse the strikers.

At bayonet point a jeering mob of 10,000 persons in one of the most turbulent demonstrations of the 16 weeks' textile strike.

Long into the morning the prisoners continued to shout and sing in their crowded quarters at the station, while radical leaders of the textile mills committee urged their companions under arrest to embarrass authorities still further by refusing to apply for or accept bail.

Those under arrest were operatives affiliated with the labor group opposed to the New Bedford textile council, the recognized union body which has consistently refused to be a part of the demonstrations which have involved police clashes.

Many were taken into custody in a wholesale roundup of pickets before the Whitman mill early last night. Vans of patrolmen made a quick dash to the scene after authorities had been alerted by Fred E. Beal, an organizer for the textile mill committees, to oust the picket line.

2 Holdup Men Escape; Victim and Policeman Die

Policeman Jerry O'Connell, attached to a detective bureau squad, died at Lakeside hospital yesterday of wounds he received during a pistol battle on Sunday with two men whom O'Connell and his partner came upon in the act of robbing a colored minister at 44th and La Salle streets. The minister, George Van Pelt, of Mount Vernon Baptist church, 161 West 35th street, was killed when caught between the crossfire of the detectives and the robbers, Aaron Woodward and Joseph Harris. O'Connell's partner, Policeman Howard J. Doyle, and also Woodward were wounded in the fight.

GIRL DIES FROM FALL.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN HUT OF FOREST HERMIT

Discovery Follows Attack on Strange Recluse.

The body of a woman, found yesterday in the forest preserve shack which had been used for twenty-six years as a hermit's hut by August Kessler, was identified last night by the aged recluse as Clara Haupt, his 73 year old cousin.

Forest preserve police discovered the body in a search of the three room shack at the end of Addison street and Cumberland avenue. The search was made in an effort to discover a motive for the attack Saturday evening on the hermit, who has suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries at the hands of a woman and two men. One of the men was arrested at the time of the attack and a woman suspect was arrested last night.

Body There Three Months.

Kessler, questioned last night as he lay in his bed at the county hospital, told a strange story of sheltering the body of his cousin since the time of her death last April.

"Make me a box. Keep me here and when you get enough money bury me in the forest," was the request made by his cousin as she was dying of pneumonia, the 70 year old hermit told the police.

"I didn't have enough money to bury her and didn't want her laid away in potter's field," he said, "so I kept her under my bed in a box until I saved enough to bury her decently."

The rude coffin was found under Kessler's bed by Lieut. Charles Holmes of the forest preserve police. The authorities learned something of the religious fanaticism of the man after they had found an altar in his hut. He had been accustomed to offer ritualistic prayers several times daily, they were told, and he claimed to be following the rules of an ancient order of monks.

Death Found Natural.

A coroner's physician was summoned and he found that the woman had died from natural causes. Kessler, however, was removed late last night to the Bridgeway hospital, where he will be guarded pending a coroner's inquest in River Grove.

Mathias Ott of 4419 Lawndale avenue is the man held in connection with the attack on Kessler. The woman is Mrs. Ellen Matterville, 38, of 2631 Erie street, River Grove. She told a rather rambling story of the affair to Chief August Loula of the forest preserve police and Lieut. Lester Laird of the highway force.

Denies Plot to Rob Hermit.

She knew Ott, she asserted, and when she met him and another man in a saloon suggested that they go with her to services in Kessler's sylvan church. She denied, however, that she knew of any plot to rob the old hermit, adding that the third man, whose name she said to be Donovan, was responsible for the beating given him. Unable to get anything more definite from the woman, the police sent her to Evanston to be held until morning.

The information the police have indicates that the man with Mrs. Matterville attacked Kessler after drinking in his hut, took $10 from him, and then slugged and kicked him when he was unable to give them more.

Kessler said that he was born in Switzerland in 1858 and that he had studied for the priesthood in Basle, Switzerland. Falling in his examinations he left Switzerland 37 years ago, determined to lead a hermit life.

Twenty-six years ago he settled in the forest preserve hut.

During his secluded existence he hoarded religious ritualistic material of all kinds—icons, paintings, altar cloths, and other objects.

He was joined by Clara Haupt, who acted as his housekeeper and assisted at his devotions until the time of her death. During her illness, he begged her to be taken to the county hospital, but she refused.

Now the old hut is to be destroyed by fire on order of Chief Loula and James L. Devereaux, chief of the county police.

TWO COPS PROVE TOO CLEVER FOR MONKEY UP TREE

"Two good tree climbers," called the desk sergeant at the Town Hall station yesterday as he hung up the receiver of his telephone. "Tully and Tuohy'll do. Get over to 3322 Janssen avenue and bring in the monkey that's inciting to riot there."

Tuohy and Tully borrowed a ladder and climbed up to get the monkey, who occupied a top branch of the largest tree thereabouts. But the quarry, whose name is believed to be Jocko, nipped him on the fingers and leaped away. There were some among the hundred or more spectators who laughed at this.

From the ground Tuohy and Tully opened fire with their pistols on Jocko, to no effect.

"We can't hit 'im," said Tuohy, "he's see-sawin' too much."

"At last," said Tully, "you have given me an idea. I see the monkey and soon I will saw him. Get me a saw."

The implement was brought and a limb, with Jocko clinging to it, was cut off. Last night the monkey, uninjured, was being petted in the squad room at Town Hall.

Bomb Set on Contractor's Porch, But Fuse Goes Out

The Summerdale police last night were seeking the person who placed a dynamite bomb on the front porch of John W. Summers, 603 North Albany avenue, a building contractor. The explosive was discovered by Mrs. Summers. Apparently the fuse had been lighted, but had been defective. Summers said he knew of no reason for such an attack.

Federal Prisoner Leaps from Train on Way Here

Leaping out the window of a speeding train as it neared Grant Park, Ill., John Dumbanchas, 32, who was held as a counterfeiter, escaped from two officers who were returning him to Chicago from Atlanta yesterday to face a federal charge. Lieut. Orville Jones of Atlanta and Deputy United States Marshal George F. Dantzier had Dumbanchas in custody and had allowed him to go alone to the lavatory. There he leaped from a window.

Removing Make-Up the Important Thing

If keeping a School-girl Complexion is your aim

Use this treatment of famous beauty oils to cleanse correctly.

WHETHER you use rouge and powder or not you can never have a truly charming complexion if natural beauty is missing. Natural beauty may be enhanced by make-up—but without natural loveliness cosmetics cannot fail to seem artificial.

One of the greatest complexion errors that can be made is in attempting to cleanse the skin thoroughly without using the right soap. Only a true beauty soap, made of the oils of olive and palm—such a soap as Palmolive—will do. The day's accumulation of soil, the old make-up, must be carefully removed from the pores by the gentle use of these natural oils that Nature provides.

Each night do this: Wash your face with warm water and the abundant lather of Palmolive. Gently massage the rich suds into the pores with your two hands. Do it leisurely. Then rinse—first with warmish water, then with cold. Your face, stimulated by this treatment, feels good. Then pat—don't rub—it dry. Add just a touch of good cold cream to prevent dryness, that is all.

Be sure you use Palmolive. 10c a cake everywhere. The Palmolive Soap Company, Chicago, Ill.

RUSSELL TO TAKE OR REJECT POLICE CHIEF JOB TODAY

Goes to See Mayor; Will Bare Plans Tomorrow.

William F. Russell, newly appointed commissioner of police, left Chicago last night for Mayor Thompson's retreat in Wisconsin to discuss the conditions upon which he will accept the post. He was accompanied by Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson.

Russell had intended to confer with the mayor yesterday but was unable to get away and postponed his departure until last night. He is expected to spend today with Mr. Ettelson and the mayor, returning Wednesday morning when he is scheduled to take charge of the department.

Right to Change Mind.

Russell spent an hour conferring with the corporation counsel in the latter's office yesterday afternoon. Following the conference the two talked with reporters but had little to say.

"I am still of the opinion that I will accept the appointment but reserve the right to change my mind prior to Wednesday," said Russell. "If I do accept, I will announce on that day what my plans and policies will be. Until then, I will have nothing further to say."

One of the deputy commissioner's plans, it has been said, is to reinstate Capt. John Stege, ousted by the Thompson civil service commission a year ago, probably as chief of detectives. Largely upon the mayor's attitude towards this proposal will hinge Russell's acceptance of the commissioner's job, his friends believe.

Should the mayor balk, they say, he will have to look for another appointee.

However, should he yield it will be taken to indicate that he desires to give Russell a free hand to make a house cleaning in the police department and open a law enforcement campaign unhampered by political ties.

Just where the Thompson-Russell conference will be held today is not known as the whereabouts of the mayor still is a mystery. The best information, apparently, was that he is at the summer home of Carter Blackford, between Spider and Island lakes, near Manitowish.

For the last two weeks the comings and goings of the mayor at various Wisconsin resorts have furnished a lively riddle at the city hall. Only Mr. Ettelson is said to have known all the time where he could be found, but the corporation counsel has never divulged the secret.

Denies Visit by Mayor.

Yesterday the city hall heard that Thompson had paid a hurried visit to Chicago Saturday and departed on a yacht for Mackinac Island. This Mr. Ettelson denied.

"The mayor has not been in Chicago since Friday, July 30," said Mr. Ettelson. "He was not here Saturday."

"Where is he?" the corporation counsel was asked.

"I know, but I can't tell," he replied.

"When will he come back to Chicago?"

"O. He'll be back to stay about the first of September," answered Mr. Ettelson. "The council meets Sept. 12 and the mayor never misses a council meeting."

City Collector Morris Eller, boss of the 20th ward, returned yesterday from a visit with his daughter in Lake Geneva and denied rumors that he intends to resign. Mr. Eller repeated his statements of last week that he will not quit his city hall job until after the November election when he expects to be elected a Sanitary district trustee.

JUDGE REFUSES WHARTON'S PLEA; JURY TO DECIDE

Cleaver, on Stand, Denies Share in Holdup.

CRIMINAL COURT.
William Wharton, charged with the robbery of the mail car at Evergreen Park last February, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller. The jury had found Wharton guilty of the robbery and the kidnapping of Charles P. Jones, a Chicago businessman, who was held captive for several days in the mail car.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

Charles Cleaver, known to the police as "Limp Charlie," yesterday took the witness stand in Federal Judge Wilkerson's court. He told the jury he had nothing to do with the $125,000 Grand Trunk trunk robbery for which he is on trial.

Although three confessed robbers have taken the stand and related in detail that he was leader of the band of eight that dynamited the mail car at Evergreen Park last February, Cleaver denied all their statements. He told the court and jury that he was a beer flat operator, that as a side line he ran whiskey from Detroit. He admitted acquaintance with each of the seven men he is charged with having led during the mail robbery. He said they came to purchase beer and discuss their "job" in his home—but he never did a "job" with one of them in his life.

Cleaver Aids Wharton Defense.
In his denial on his own behalf, Cleaver also upheld the defense of Charles H. Wharton, former assistant to State Attorney Robert E. Crowe, and a former congressman who is on trial with him charged with complicity in the robbery. For in his general denial Cleaver included the specific charge that he asked Wharton for the use of his Beverly Hills home as a hideout to be used after the robbery.

Late in the day, after Cleaver had left the stand, his story unbroken by cross examination of First Assistant District Attorney John E. Northrup, Judge Wilkerson ruled out certain parts of the testimony both as to Wharton and to Cleaver. This was done on the motion of Attorneys James J. Harbison for Wharton and Joseph P. Power for Cleaver.

Attorney Harbison had lost his motion to have the case against Wharton taken from the jury. The jury probably will have the fate of both Wharton and Cleaver under consideration by tonight.

Says Leniency Was Offered.
"Did any one ever offer you immunity, if you would confess this crime which you now deny from the stand?" That was the last question asked of Cleaver yesterday by Attorney Power. William H. Schoemaker had testified that he had told Cleaver: "You will be a humpbacked old man before being released from prison, if convicted."

Cleaver said to Attorney Power's question, "Postoffice Inspector Aldrich told me if I confess he'd guarantee I'd be on the street in a year. He had my wife cry on my shoulder."

Prosecutor Northrup did not cross-examine Cleaver on that point. Cleaver limped to the stand calmly to begin his story. He testified he had owned his home at 10235 South Elizabeth street for seven years, living there with his wife. He admitted he was acquainted with the men who have testified they took part in the robbery.

Sells Beer, Whiskey.
Attorney Power questioned him.
Q—Have you any business or occupation?
A—Running a beer flat and selling alcohol and whiskey.
Q—Any trade?
A—Yes, I'm a plumber.

At the lawyer's request he told of one place he had been employed for five years. He said he worked at the Great Lakes Naval Training station throughout the war. He then said he had seen the men accused of taking part in the Evergreen Park mail robbery at his home several times. He said they came there to purchase and drink beer and to talk. He said, however, Virgil Litzinger, who is a fugitive, never came with the rest. Litzinger, he testified, was his partner in whiskey operations and came when the others were not there.

The questioning was resumed by Mr. Power.
Q—Now on Feb. 25 of this year (date of robbery) did you have beer in your house?
A—Yes, six, seven, eight hundred bottles.
Q—On the evening of Feb. 26 did you see Capt. Schoemaker and other police?
A—Yes, they rapped on the door of my house; I opened it and they came in.

Tells of Police Raid.
Q—Did they have a search warrant?
A—No, they told me they had a search warrant to search a hoodlum's house.
Q—And Capt. Schoemaker came in?

FORD, ON BIRTHDAY, TELLS OF HIS HOPE TO WORK FOR YEARS

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—[Special.]—This was Henry Ford's 65th birthday and it found him at his desk, as usual, advising his friends that he expected "to do more in the next five years than I have in the last twenty."

Mr. Ford was at his office early after a Sunday rest from a 716 mile drive on Saturday. He had been visiting his old friend, Thomas A. Edison, at East Orange, N. J.

"Men of 65, perhaps, should not do too much running and jumping, but that is no reason why they should not do as much work with the mind as every one and better work," he said. "Take all the experience and judgment of men over 50 out of the world, and there would not be enough left to run it."

A—Yes, and 35 other police with guns and shotguns. One had a big steel shield, behind which he walked. Cleaver then testified those policemen searched his house, took him to the Grand Crossing police station, and there took off all his clothes, finding some $300 he had hidden under his shirt when the police arrived.

Calls Slap His Receipt.
Q—Ever get any receipt for that money?
A—Yes—a slap in the face. Cleaver said he then was taken to the detective bureau, to the Federal building, and back to the detective bureau. At the bureau he first learned, he said, that he was held in connection with the Evergreen Park mail robbery.

Q—Any others at the bureau when you were there?
A—About 60 who were people who came to my house for beer and were grabbed there.

Cleaver testified that twice during the time he was held at the detective bureau members of the crew of the robbed train were brought to look at him. He said they did not identify him. These same members of the train crew were taken to the stand in court, but were not asked to point him out or identify him.

Attorney Power still was questioning Cleaver.

Q—Now, going back to your house, when the police first came, did they get any money there?
A—Yes, I had $21,000 in a box under the stairs and $200 in the pantry.

Going to Buy Whiskey.
Cleaver later testified he and Virgil Litzinger were going to Detroit with that money to pay for some whiskey.

Q—Now, when Donovan, Meccia, and Jackson (members of the robber band) came to your home, did you ever hear them talk of any stickups?
A—I heard them talking that Donovan had knocked off a policeman and I heard them talking of knocking over a gambling house in Milwaukee. In fact, they talked of five road houses and two gambling houses they had robbed.

Cleaver then specifically, in answer to question after question by Attorney Power, denied he had anything to do with the train robbery. He also denied he ever "went on stickups" with any of the men named.

Wharton's Friends Testify.
An imposing array of character witnesses testified earlier as to Attorney Wharton's good name and honesty. Among them were Judge Edgar A. Jones of the Municipal court; Henry Berger, sanitary district trustee; David D. Stanbury, first assistant to Frank J. Loesch, prosecutor before the special grand jury investigating crime and politics in Chicago; Harry Read, city editor of the Chicago American; Capt. M. P. Evans, for 25 years chief of the bureau of identification of the police department; several assistant state's attorneys, and several lieutenants and sergeants of police.

DRIVERLESS CAR DRAGS HIM SIXTY FEET; HE LIVES

4 More Deaths Added to Motor Toll.

Edward F. Steuben, 27, of 7641 Bosworth avenue, was but slightly injured yesterday when he cranked his automobile while it was in gear and was dragged under it for 60 feet while it ran driverless at Ohio street and Michigan avenue. The car finally plunged through a fence and toppled over a five foot embankment at the southwest corner of the intersection.

Four deaths in automobile accidents raised the Cook county motor toll since Jan. 1 to 877. The victims were: Constantine Kafantaris, 10, of 5117 South California avenue, who died at the Lakeside hospital of injuries suffered on Sunday when an automobile in which he was riding overturned at 56th street and Kedzie avenue.

Miss Marcia George, 33, of 1435 East 67th street, who died at the Illinois hospital. She was struck on July 4 by a car driven by Harry Hoynes, 7225 Jeffery avenue, at Marquette road and Stony Island avenue.

Michael Maroney, 23, an employee of the Little Sisters of the Poor, at Harrison and Throop streets, who died at the county hospital shortly after he had been struck on the side walk in front of the home. The driver, after swerving onto the walk, drove away.

Anton Grochalski, 8, of 1943 North Oakley avenue, killed when he was struck near his home by an automobile driven by Mrs. Anna Fillichio, 1069 Throop street.

The lad was caught in the bumper and Mrs. Fillichio lost control of the car, allowing it to crash into a fence. Anton was crushed to death. The woman driver was held.

Serious injuries were suffered by G. M. Gots, 73, an employee of the Marshall Field & Co. warehouse at 320 Polk street, when he stepped in front of a car driven by Ray Olsen, 8423 Gilbert court, in front of the warehouse. Olsen was held.

DRAINED QUARRY

With scarcely an inch of water remaining in the abandoned quarry near Elmhurst on York and Quarry roads, where it was believed the body of a woman lay, the pumping was discontinued last night and only the discolored remains of five automobiles were revealed.

More than two thousand persons who each of the last several nights crowded the brink of the quarry to watch the draining, disappeared quickly when the pumps were stopped without verifying the report of a boy that he had struck the body when he dived into the pool.

AMATEURS CAN MAKE COLORED MOTION PICTURES

Eastman Demonstrates
His New Process.

Rochester, N. Y., July 30.—[Special.]—Amateur photographers will be able to make their own colored motion pictures, reproducing scenes in full natural colors, by use of a new process demonstrated for the first time today by George Eastman before a group of scientists and other distinguished guests.

The new process, which is comparatively simple from a scientific point of view, is called so revolutionary as to place it alongside the discovery of the film and the invention of motion pictures. It is the culmination of 25 years of experiment.

Color Filter Over Lens.
All the amateur need do, it was pointed out, is load his movie camera with the new process film, place a "color filter" over his lens, and take his pictures. All previous color motion picture processes have required the use of complicated cameras and finishing methods; the most striking thing about the new invention seems to be its extreme simplicity. Taking motion pictures in color, it was said, will be as easy as taking snapshots.

Among Mr. Eastman's guests at his home today when the new process was demonstrated were Thomas A. Edison; Prof. Michael I. Pupin, physicist of Columbia university; Dr. G. K. Burgess, director of the United States bureau of standards; Hiram P. Maxin, the inventor, president of the Amateur Cinema League; Gen. John J. Pershing, Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric company, and others.

Method Is Simple.
The film itself is not colored. The new process depends principally on a radically new type of film. Instead of having the usual smooth surface the side opposite the sensitive coating is embossed with cylindrical lenses so small as to be invisible to the naked eye. These lenses are part of the film itself and made of the film substance. The process was explained in detail by Dr. C. E. K. Mees, director of the Eastman Kodak research laboratories. He said: "From the photographer's point of view, the matter is simplicity itself. The color filter is composed of three separate areas—red, green and blue. It slips into the lens in the place of the ordinary hood."

Secret Is in Film.
"The secret is in the film. When the trigger of the camera is pressed, light reflected from the subject passes selectively through the three color filter, on through the camera lens and thence through the tiny embossed lenses on the film to the sensitive emulsion coating on the opposite side, where it is recorded."

"The function of the lenses embossed on the film is to guide the rays of light falling upon each tiny area and lay them on the sensitive emulsion as three distinct impressions, corresponding to the three filter areas, so that the three colors covering the lens are imaged behind each tiny cylindrical lens as three parallel vertical strips, because the tiny cylindrical lenses are parallel to the strips of color on the filter. Thus the width of each of the minute areas of emulsion is subdivided into three parts related to the three filter areas, and is affected by light that is able to pass through the different colors. The sum of these invisibly small affected areas of film constitutes the whole photographic image."

CANADIAN FLYERS WILL STOP HERE ON RACE TO THE COAST

Chicago will be the first stop over in the Windsor, Can., to Los Angeles air race, Sept. 9, in which only Canadian aviators will compete, it was announced yesterday by Dudley M. Steele, of the California Air Race association. The aviators will stop here but thirty minutes.

Plans for numerous other air races to be sponsored by this organization were likewise made known and include seven contests all of which will end in Los Angeles between Sept. 10 and 13. Prizes of several thousand dollars have been posted. One race is to be a transcontinental flight from New York to Los Angeles, another a non-stop contest over the same route, and still another a nonstop race from Mexico City.

These lenses are part of the film itself and made of the film substance. The process was explained in detail by Dr. C. E. K. Mees, director of the Eastman Kodak research laboratories. OBREGON SLAYER DENIES AID OF OTHERS IN CRIME

Tells Story of Attempts to Kill Leader.

BULLETIN.
MEXICO CITY, July 31.—(AP)—Police in a formal statement assert that a Catholic nun, Concepcion Acebedo de la Lata, and a man named Manuel Trejo fostered a belief in the mind of Jose De Leon Toral that he could solve the religious problems of Mexico by playing Gen. Alvaro Obregon.

Sister Concepcion and 16 other nuns who were arrested at Guadalupe Hidalgo, were being held today for further examination. Toral said he had visited them frequently in recent months, but asserted that they were ignorant of his desire to kill Gen. Obregon.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MEXICO CITY, July 31.—For more than an hour Jose de Leon Toral, the assassin of President-elect Alvaro Obregon, stood the grilling of thirty newspaper men at police headquarters this morning and throughout refused to implicate others in the act. To the question: "Didn't you confess to a priest that the crime was premeditated?" he answered: "No. What I intended to do was good. There was no necessity to confess."

Toral declined to implicate Manuel Trejo in the crime, saying that Trejo, though furnishing a pistol and showing Toral repeatedly how to manage it, did not know of his determination to assassinate Gen. Obregon. In addition, Toral exculpated nuns, priests, his own family, and relatives from participation in the assassination.

To the question: "Where do you think the soul of Gen. Obregon is?" he answered: "Since I have of my own free will offered my life for that of Gen. Obregon and am now awaiting death, I firmly believe Gen. Obregon now is saved and enjoying paradise."

Police Are Skeptical.
Apparently the police are unwilling to believe Toral's assertion that Trejo had nothing to do with the assassination. They have offered a reward of $1,000 for the location or arrest of Trejo, whose whereabouts are unknown, and have given out photos of the man for distribution among American newspapers.

The police turned Toral over to the civil judge for trial after the interview.

The story of the various attempts by Toral to assassinate Gen. Obregon, from his arrival in the city until the final tragedy, July 24 at the Bombilla Inn, read like a wild tale of adventure.

When Gen. Obregon arrived at the station, Toral was there, armed with a camera to avoid attention, but the surging mass of friends and visitors about Gen. Obregon prevented the assassination. Toral then followed the party to the Obregon headquarters. Again the densely packed crowd prevented the assassination. From the Paseo to the national palace and to the house of deputies went the assassin on his bloodstained heels. Wounded, he returned home, only to continue his hunt after a short rest.

Buys Artists' Materials.
Toral followed the trail of Gen. Obregon to his home, where he was interested in the workmen laying a new pavement, he watched the house of this victim. He retreated to the corner saloon, whence he could watch every movement at the Obregon residence. He later went to the store on Avenida Francisco Madero and bought artists' materials with the intention of throwing the guards of Gen. Obregon off the track.

On July 17 Toral found a notice of the banquet for Gen. Obregon in the papers.

Gets Admitted by Ruse.
Under the pretext of hunting for a fictitious person, he gained admittance to the banquet hall. He seated himself at a table in the back and began sketching Col. Ricardo Topete, Obregon leader, Aaron Saenz, governor of Nueva Leon, Gen. Obregon, and other members of the party.

Finally, he asked Senor Topete to get permission to show his drawings to Gen. Obregon. Concealing his pistol in a newspaper, with his sketchbook in the other hand, he stepped forward. As Gen. Obregon took the book, Toral, stepping behind him, fired five shots into the general's head and body.

Youth Drowns, Girl Rescued

Harry Kraus and Miss Myrtle Lundstrom, whom he rescued as boat capsized.

Several crews of coast guardmen and police were dragging the lake near Michigan City, Ind., last night for the body of 19-year-old Edgar Bodger of 3317 West Lake street, who was drowned Sunday when his canoe upset. Bodger, Harry Kraus, 18, of 333 North Laramie avenue; and Miss Myrtle Lundstrom, 18, of 214 North Kolin avenue, were attending an outing of the A. & P. stores and had gone out together in the canoe. When the canoe overturned, Kraus seized both Bodger and Miss Lundstrom, who were unable to swim, but as he neared the shore Bodger slipped from his grasp and went down. Kraus managed to save Miss Lundstrom.

WRIGHT'S HOME, TALIESEN, SOLD UNDER HAMMER

Spring Green, Wis., July 30.—[Special.]—Tallieson, 180-acre estate of Frank Lloyd Wright, architect, was sold under the auctioneer's hammer today for $25,000, the estate going to the Bank of Wisconsin, Madison, on the only bid made.

About 150 persons gathered to see the place sold, some of them taking their lunch to the estate and making a picnic of the event, but there was no one interested in buying the property except the bank officials. The estate has its own small electric plant, to supply lights for the long, rambling gray stucco buildings that surround a court on the hill.

Auctioneer W. H. Mitchell first offered the property in thirty-acre lots, thinking he could work up a contest over the property in this way, but everybody listened and nobody talked as he shouted for offers.

Finally the entire estate was put on the block and there came a single bid. All efforts to get a second offer proved in vain, and the bank came into the property which partly covers a mortgage that the bank holds against Mr. Wright, who is now living in San Diego, Cal.

Paint Your Cheeks From the Inside

Rosy complexions and clear skin come with internal cleanliness. A clear, soft, youthful skin, and bright sparkling eyes are signs of radiant health.

Poor complexions usually travel hand in hand with internal poisoning, a condition caused by decay-producing germs in the intestinal tract. These germs secrete poisons which are quickly absorbed into the blood, later to manifest themselves in pimples, boils, and other skin blemishes.

Brook Hill Acidophilus Milk is putting youthful color into thousands of smiling faces everywhere, because it is the natural champion of perfect health. It contains no drugs or medicine, but its millions of energizing cells drive out the germs of decay. With the germ-gone, poisoning stops. With the blood freed of poisons, the improvement shows in the skin and complexion.

Write to Brook Hill Laboratories, Genesee Depot, Wis., for their interesting booklet "Food of Youth," and drink Brook Hill Acidophilus Milk regularly. At all—

HIGH BARBERING PRICES IN LOOP LAID TO COMBINE

Charges Follow Assault on Shop Owner.

Walter G. Walker, attorney for the Employers' association of Chicago, announced late yesterday that he has launched an investigation into an alleged collusive agreement between the loop master barbers and the officers of the Journeymen Barbers' union.

Attorney Walker termed the alleged pact an "itchy-scratchy agreement," one by which the master barbers join hands with the union officers for the mutual benefit of both. Added investigators, he said, were assigned to the case as the outcome of the slugging of Jethro Beel, the 78-year-old owner of the Crilly building barber shop at 53 South Dearborn street.

Blames Price Demands.
Beel charged he was slugged because he refused to abide by the master barbers' dictum to charge 75 cents for hair trimming. He also refused to join the organization, and maintained a 50-cent charge for haircutting.

"Three months ago they got into my shop, smashed the mirrors and slashed the upholstery of the chairs," said Beel.

"Saturday I was taking my dog for a walk when a car blocked my path at a street corner. Two men closed in on me and one struck me in the face with a pair of brass knuckles."

Frank Liska, head of the master loop barbers' organization, was reported to be out of town yesterday on a vacation.

New Attitude of Barbers.
"In former years the loop master barbers frowned on attempts of the union to organize the shops," said Attorney Walker.

"Now both groups are playing ring around the rose. We have information to show that the union has promised to support the masters' 75 cents per haircut in loop shops in return for their cooperation along organization lines. There are first class loop shops charging only 50 cents for haircutting and these are a thorn in the side of the master loop barbers. Beel was the owner of one of the shops, and he claims he made a fair profit at that price."

"Judges don't make the laws," he said today. "They only administer them. It's my job to see that justice, as the statutes provide, is served out to those who break the law. There is nothing the matter with our laws. Whatever fault may exist lies with their administration."

Several days ago the owner of a quart of whisky stood before Judge Atwell for sentence. "I can't punish you very severely," he told the man, "but I shall have to put a substantial fine on you."

The fine was $500, and there were gasps of amazement.

Not all of Judge Atwell's sentences have been so severe. He gave a postal clerk convicted of theft the best of the break, and the other day he refused to send to prison the head of a family convicted of selling whisky while under the influence of his own wares. But he doesn't like bootleggers.

Calls Them Peril.
"The bootlegger is in it for the money," he says, "and would kill a policeman if interrupted. They get the stiffest penalty I can give them."

Judge Atwell's friends say he is an anti-prohibitionist who has not taken a drink since prohibition. The judge admits that he "likes a drink as well as any one," but he explains he is "proud to be able to tell a prisoner that I do not enforce the law with my right hand and break it with my left."

Look Years Less Than Your Age

The most aged face will look younger after the use of ordinary Nozofol. Nozofol is a powerful, yet gentle, skin cleanser. It removes the faded or withered outer skin, reveals the fresher, more youthful skin underneath. An entire course of Nozofol treatment is a purely hygienic skin treatment. It is not a cosmetic. STREET REPAIR PROSPECTS HIT ANOTHER BUMP

White Paving Co. Clings to Pact with City.

Prospects of street repair activities on the north side being resumed this summer grew slimmer yesterday. A day of negotiations failed to untangle the legal tangle over the White Paving Company's contract to do that work during 1928.

At a conference with Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen yesterday, representatives of the company agreed to cancel the contract, if the city would pay the concern's bill, amounting to $368,773, and if Miss Myrtle N. Eisenau, complainant in a suit attacking the contract, would withdraw the suit.

Makes Three Conditions.

Miss Eisenau, in her bill, charged that the contract prices were "fraudulently excessive" and set forth as "fair and reasonable" averaging about one-half as much. At these prices, the company would receive around $300,000 instead of $368,773.

"I doubt very much if the company will agree to such a reduction," Mr. Breen said last night.

Aldermen Meet Today.

Mr. Breen announced, however, that he will confer again with the company representatives today to find out what they will do. He said he would report on the situation to Ald. Jacob Arvey's council subcommittee on vehicle tax matters. That group meets today at 2 p. m. Those aldermen held a short session yesterday, but adjourned to await the outcome of negotiations on the contract.

In case the company refuses to cancel the contract on the terms imposed by Miss Eisenau, it is agreed, there is no hope for any more repair work on the north side until after a decision in that suit is rendered at the September term of court. That will be after the summer season when most repair work is done.

Holes and Protests Increase.

The work was stopped in the middle of June and since that time not a square foot of pavement north of Madison street has been touched. Meanwhile, protests of citizens and improvement clubs about the holes in the streets have grown in volume and vehemence.

Not only on the north side, but all over the city, surveys have shown, pavements supposed to be repaired out of the vehicle tax fund have fallen to pieces that garage owners report a big increase in the number of broken automobile springs and blown out tires. Various proposals to investigate expenditure of the fund, to increase it, and to resurface streets by special assessment, thus far have failed to furnish any definite plan of relief.

Woman Cashier of Joliet Hotel Robbed of $1,500.

As Miss Minnie Dennis, cashier of the Joliet hotel, Joliet, started to the bank yesterday she was held up by two bandits who robbed her of $1,500. The hotel is a block from the bank.

Chart Shows Condition of Rogers Park Streets

A Tribune survey of four square blocks of Rogers park pavements selected at random shows the following conditions which exist from Arthur avenue to Pratt boulevard between Bosworth street and Glenwood avenue. Any rate of speed in excess of six miles an hour through these streets is dangerous and in most instances impossible, with the exception of the stretch along North Shore avenue. Glenwood avenue from Pratt boulevard to North Shore avenue has 252 holes ranging in size from six inches to four feet, with a depth from two to eight inches. There are 79 holes of similar size in the next block south between North Shore and Albion street, and 214 from Albion to Arthur street, and 214 from Arthur to Newgard street in the same district has 356 holes or depressions which would be disastrous to any motorist blinded by night driving or through rain soaked streets. Similar conditions exist on Greenview and Bosworth, with crossings so bad at some intersections it required two women to pilot a baby carriage across the street. Such an experience actually occurred at the intersection of Albion and Bosworth.

HIS NEIGHBORLY SPIRIT IS TRIED BY UNEQUAL TAX

Small Home Owner Finds What Others Pay.

Peter Krehoff, a painting and decorating contractor on a modest scale, owns his home, a brick bungalow, at 7746 South Throop street. John McErlane, a South Park police sergeant, is a next door neighbor. Across the alley is the home of H. J. Austin, Thompson Republican captain of the 37th precinct of the 18th ward.

"With a wife and two children to provide for," Krehoff said yesterday, "taxes are a serious problem for me. Last year, Serg. McErlane told me he was paying less than half the tax that I was. He offered me some hope of getting my taxes reduced."

What the Tax List Shows.

"But the published tax list which I received today shows my building is assessed on a valuation of $3,235 and the policeman's on $1,200. His house and mine were both built in 1924 and they look alike, except that his has six rooms and mine five."

"The tax valuation on Mr. Austin's home is only $400, according to the list. His house is about the same value as mine, but my 1927 tax bill was $194.26, nearly half of the assessed valuation of his place. I haven't been able to pay all of my tax bill yet. Such inequalities are enough to try a man's spirit of neighborliness."

CHARLIE LEVINE SLAPS A PARISIAN EDITOR AS MABEL LOOKS ON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DEAUVILLE, July 30.—A near riot broke out in the fashionable Deauville casino early this morning when Charlie Levine and his aeronautical protégée, Miss Mabel Bell, encountered Erskine Gwynne, Vanderbilt scion, editor of a Paris monthly review.

"You the guy that edits the Boulevardier and responsible for the dirty cracks taken at me?" snarled Levine. "Yes, I'm the guy. What about it?" came back Gwynne, calmly.

"Just that!" shouted Charlie, landing his left on the debutant editor's jaw. Society women, millionaires, and sportsmen rushed up to separate the pair.

When the air cleared, Mabel, sparkling with diamonds as usual, took Charlie's arm and led him home.

let mailed yesterday. At 1021-1023 1035 East 49th street is one of those old stone buildings containing three homes, each with a private entrance. On the exterior they are exactly alike. The assessments read: 1031, Murray M. Orsott, $3,500; 1033, Harry A. Roberts, $3,500; 1035, J. G. Kehoe, $800.

"I don't know how it's done," said Orsott, vice president of the Drovers National bank. Kehoe, a lumberman, was not at home nor at his office when a reporter called.

The Illinois tax commission this morning is expected to announce its rules for reassessing Cook county real estate, revising the 1927 quadrennial valuations.

HURT IN DRINK PARLOR.

Thomas Barrett, 28, of 9300 Avenue M was taken to the South Chicago hospital yesterday after he had been struck over the head by Albert Johnson, 10707 Avenue M, in a soft drink parlor at 101st street and Indianapolis avenue.

ARREST OF TRIO THWARTS PLAN TO ROB TRIBUNE

Three men were arrested early yesterday morning in front of The Tribune Tower as they were contemplating the robbery of a news stand collector. One of the men confessed that he and his companions planned the robbery after hearing stories that money bags were to be delivered to the newspaper plant.

Joseph Kosaritz, 22, of 1947 West Superior street, who says he is a deputy bailiff of the city custodian's office; John Senew, 21, of 2104 North 75th avenue, Elmwood Park; and Charles Stanley, 30, of 2223 West Chicago avenue, are the men under arrest. Senew admitted to Policeman Patrick Barrett and Floyd Ford that the gang intended to commit the robbery.

Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburn, who was assigned to carry on a vigorous prosecution, also heard Senew's admissions.

Two other members of the gang escaped and police are searching for them. The robbery was thwarted by the alertness of Tribune employees, who become suspicious when they noticed an automobile, motor running for a quick getaway, standing near the entrance. Senew and Stanley were found to be armed with revolvers.

Writs of habeas corpus were issued for Senew and Stanley by Judge Otto Kerner yesterday afternoon, but he continued hearing on the petition until today to give the police time to complete their investigations.

WEST WILL NOT COMMIT SELF ON BOULDER SCHEME

Tells Experts to Make a Thorough Investigation

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., July 30.—[Special.]—Further declarations of administration policy with respect to the Boulder dam project will await the report of the new board of engineers and geologists on or before Dec. 1.

Secretary of the Interior Roy O. West made this clear today in addressing the board, which held its first meeting and commenced an investigation which opponents of the project are convinced will demonstrate the unsoundness of the plans as sponsored by engineers of the reclamation service.

The board organized by electing Maj. Gen. William L. Sibert, U. S. A., retired, as chairman, and Charles P. Berkey, professor of geology at Columbia University, as secretary.

After going over the situation in a preliminary way the board agreed to meet on Aug. 13 at Denver at the offices of the reclamation service where much of the data is available.

Work Also Present.

It was apparent from Mr. West's attitude that the board's report if critical of the engineering plans on which the Swing-Johnson bill is predicated will mean an abandonment of the Boulder dam project by the administration. President Coolidge heretofore has been favorable to the proposition on the basis of the recommendation of former Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work.

Former Secretary Work also attended the initial meeting of the board and expressed himself in much the same way as Mr. West.

Others present at the meeting, which was held in Mr. West's office, were Edward C. Finney, first assistant secretary of the interior, and Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation.

Gen. Sibert, in discussing plans of the board, said that the detailed program would be determined at Denver. He was uncertain as to whether or not there would be public hearings.

SIX LAND OWNERS BALK BUILDING OF ROAD TO ELGIN

Plan Condemnation If Last Plea Fails.

Six property owners are delaying construction of the new state road, between Elgin and Evanston, by declining to relinquish titles for right of way purposes. It was reported to the county board yesterday by County Commissioner William Busse.

At Mr. Busse's suggestion the board adopted a resolution instructing the county highway department to make a final effort to acquire the property by purchase and if this is not successful immediately to begin condemnation proceedings.

This project is known as state highway 58 and is surveyed as an extension of Simpson street, Evanston, along Golf road and then on to new right of way, 24 miles to Elgin. The county agreed to furnish a 100 foot right of way and the state is ready to pave it at a width of twenty feet. All right of way excepting six parcels has been acquired by the county and turned over to the state.

The county highway department reported to the board that the state has agreed to pave the western extremity of Avondale avenue 40 feet wide, providing sufficient right of way is furnished. The portion of Avondale which the state is willing to improve is that lying between the city limits and Milwaukee avenue just north of Edmunds.

As the street is within the city limits the board referred the job of producing the right of way titles to Michael Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, with recommendations to proceed at once.

The Avondale improvement, as volunteered by the state, would provide a wide connection at Milwaukee avenue with the proposed elevated highway along the Avondale highway line to Canal and Monroe streets. The elevation project was submitted to the voters last spring, with many other projects, and was defeated. It will be revived shortly, however, and the paving of the connection to the county highways will be a valuable preparatory improvement.

Meanwhile the pavement south of the North Western railway will serve as a relief for traffic now using the Northwest highway.

Contracts were let for drainage works on the line of Dixie highway to be ordered on that road. Bids for widening River road were again deferred because of objection to the low bidder, F. L. Minder, by labor union officials.

USED CARS are opportunities

—A used car
is unused transportation—

A GOOD automobile may be likened to a "package" containing so many thousand miles of transportation.

Only occasionally are all of these miles used by one owner. The American custom of turning in a car after an average use of two years, brings into the market every year several million "used cars." And these offer opportunities which more people are appreciating every year.

The cars accepted by General Motors dealers in trade vary in name, body style and price. Some have seen sturdy service; in others the potential mileage has been scarcely touched. There is a wide field of choice for families wanting transportation at the lowest possible cost, of wishing to own a car of a higher price class.

Particularly do used cars present an easy way of owning a second or third car.

Examine the used cars in the stores of General Motors dealers, and purchase the car of your choice on the convenient GMAC Payment Plan.

HOOVER FISHES IN COOL SHADE OF OREGON PINES

But Nominee Has a Bad
Day with Trout.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
In Camp with Hoover, Medford, Ore., July 30.—[Special.]—Under the influence of the open road, the forests, the ocean, mountain streams and sunshine of the Pacific coast, the Republican presidential campaign seems to have been forgotten by Herbert Hoover and his friends. Of much more importance is the way over a hill, the way the fish are rising, the night's camp and the weather.

Travelling with Mr. Hoover over the coast and mountain country is a strenuous and formative occupation. He seems quite tireless himself while others are dropping with fatigue.

He talks on many things, the conservation of forests, particularly the reforestation of the coast, the radio invention by which ships now sail along these fox sweep coasts in safety, the changing habits of the American people, and the mysterious ways of trout.

Spends Night at Fishing Lodge.

He had his first fishing of the trip today. Coming out of Bull Creek flat and the camp under the redwoods, the party traveled along a cool gray coast highway for more than 100 miles to Crescent City, and then struck inland over the Siskiyou mountains into Oregon. Near Grant's pass, the candidate for fishing honors was waylaid by a chamber of commerce representative and urged to spend the night at a fishing lodge at the Rogue river.

The nominee did not go to church yesterday. When he was reminded of this, he said:

"Fortunately, I belong to a faith that does not depend on outward ceremony. The worship comes from within."

His worship was at noon under a grove of redwoods. This was going to church for him. He sat picking sardines out of a can with his pocket knife and gazing up at the green crown of a tree that must be about 2,000 years old.

Sleeps Amid Oregon Pines.

SENATOR CURTIS VISITS CHICAGO; TALKS 'KANSAS'

Says It's Early for the National Topics.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Senator Charles Curtis, Republican vice presidential nominee, visited the national committee Chicago headquarters unexpectedly yesterday and immediately Kansas politics had precedence over national politics. James Good, western manager for Hoover and Curtis, was arranging a visit by Hoover to the Iowa farmers and former Gov. Henry Allen, national publicity director, was on a hunt for a history of Tammany Hall.

Senator Curtis, of course, said the political situation was not a subject for conversation, not at this time, and not until after the formal notification and acceptance ceremonies next month.

"I just dropped in for a friendly visit and chat," the veteran Kansas senator said. "I'm on my way home."

Gov. Allen, who has demonstrated that he knows plenty about the publicity business, then got a little joshing.

"How's your candidate running?" the senator asked the former governor of his state.

Then Mr. Allen had to explain. The whole state of Kansas is for Curtis, but not for his candidate for governor. Senator Curtis is on his way home to the candidacy of John M. Hamilton for the Republican nomination for governor of Kansas. Allen is backing Clyde M. Reed for the same office and they are the leading contenders in a primary field of seven.

"There is exceptional interest in this primary," Mr. Allen explained. "Because the newly elected governor will have the opportunity of appointing a United States senator to succeed Senator Curtis when he becomes Vice President."

"The real business right now is in meeting the Iowa farmers," Mr. Good said. "Secretary Hoover will spend Aug. 22 and 24 at Cedar Rapids, Ia., meeting agricultural leaders. He will not make any public speeches there, but he will discuss the farm problems with the farmers."

SERGEANT YAWNS WHEN ALDERMAN REPORTS HOLDUP

Police Hunt Kidnapers
After Late Start.

Ald. Albert E. Loescher (44th) of 2028 Sheffield avenue, a member of the city council police committee, gleaned some first hand information yesterday about the functioning of the police department. What he found out, he said, was not especially complimentary to that division of the municipal government.

The alderman and his four companions, three of whom were girls, were kidnaped and robbed by five bandits while driving home early in the morning from a trip to Wisconsin. The party had driven down south to the Woodlawn district, where one of the girls lived. The bandits, in an automobile, halted the alderman's car at Cottage Grove avenue and the Midway, took possession and drove them to a secluded spot near Jackson park. There they relieved the victims of valuables and currency aggregating $1,000.

Police Sergeant Yawns.
Immediately after the robbers sped away, the alderman reported to the Woodlawn police station. The sergeant on duty, he said, told him something like this:

"You've come to the wrong place. This didn't happen in our district. I can't do anything for you."

Loescher protested and demanded that headquarters be notified so that a general order could be flashed out to all stations to be on the lookout for the robbers.

"Nope, the lieutenant isn't here and I can't send out a message without his O. K.," the sergeant is said to have replied.

When the alderman insisted, the sergeant yawned. Finally, after considerable more argument, he took a report of the affair and sent it in to headquarters. Detective squad cars were then dispatched to the south side for a search but, meanwhile the bandits had gone to the north side and continuing operations on the way. At 918 Jackson boulevard and at 1154 Washington boulevard, they robbed filling stations. At the outer drive near Diversey parkway, they forced Ernest De Graff, an Evanston beauty parlor owner, and his companions, Joseph Hawkins and his sister, Irene, to halt their car and turn over their money.

With the Loescher party were Clifford Mitchell, a drug store manager, 6326 Drexel boulevard; Miss May Jewell, Miss Thelma Cox, and Lulu Hoffman, all of 6194 Woodlawn avenue. Miss Cox is employed at the business office of the University of Chicago and Miss Hoffman at the National Bank of the Republic. Loescher had stopped the car for a traffic light at the Cottage Grove corner when the bandit car drew alongside. Two of the five men posing as policemen, flourished revolvers.

Accosted for Speeding.
"What's the big hurry?" one asked. "We're police officers. Get over to the curb."

"Well, I'm an alderman," Loescher replied. "And I wasn't speeding anyway."

"We don't care who you are," the bandit said. "Get into the back seat and be quiet."

The robbers entered the sedan, leaving one of their number to bring their own machine, and drove to the vicinity of Jackson park, a mile away where they appropriated the valuables.

NEW LIBERALISM STIRS WISCONSIN; IDEALISM GONE

Industry and Taxation Chief Political Issues.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Madison, Wis., July 30.—(Special.)—Wisconsin is astir with a new liberalism. It is of an industrial nature and is tied up with the farm which is a factor in itself in Wisconsin.

The new progressivism is the chief issue in the Republican primaries to be held Sept. 4, in which Senator La Follette is opposed by Mayor George W. Mead of Wisconsin Rapids.

Gov. Fred Zimmerman, seeking re-nomination, has two antagonists, Walter Kohler of Kohler, the entry of the Green Bay regulars, and Joseph D. Beck, the Blaine-La Follette pick.

Idealism Spirit Gone.

Since the death of the late "Fighting Bob" La Follette appears to have lost the spirit of idealism which helped make it dominant in Wisconsin for a quarter century. The politicians in the camp display no knack of the evangel. Disguises have been penetrated and it appears that "let the people rule" no longer is an efficient set of false whisks for "get the job done."

They are displaying the old issues with new settings, but job getting looms up as the main quill as in other states.

As one prominent observer put it: "The La Folletteites are going stronger for figures. They're trying to solve moral issues by statistics."

La Follette Grows Stronger.

Senator La Follette ran high man in the April primaries for delegate-at-large and his followers declare his strength since has been increased by the Kansas City convention. Farmers all over the state tuned in when young Bob read the Wisconsin platform and heard the applause the delegates gave him before they threw his platform out of the window.

But meanwhile the anti-La Follette camp has taken on a new aspect. Many of the old line stalwarts who were extreme in their way as were the insurgents in theirs, have died or passed out of the picture.

New blood has come in. Business executives, lads from the colleges, its a modernized group. They are saying the La Follette radicals now are the real "Reactionaries." Wisconsin, they argue, today needs industrial expansion to keep pace with other states.

Taxation Big Issue.

Taxation is the main theme hammered on by all three candidates for governor. Outside capital is kept from coming into Wisconsin, the Republican regulars declare by instability of tax methods. There is a continuous tinkering with the laws.

Other states are drawing factories, they assert, which would come to Wisconsin were it not for the fear that at any session of the legislature anything may happen to alter the distribution of the tax burden to relieve some of the people at the expense of others.

The Palm Olive company is spoken of in the campaigning as indicating tax pressures. This company moved its offices from Milwaukee to Chicago and changed from a Wisconsin corporation to a Delaware. It is said that its last income tax as a Wisconsin corporation was $190,000, while its first tax under the new form was only $17,000.

Attack Increased Tax.

Both Mr. Kohler of the regulars and Mr. Beck of the Blaine-La Folletteites are attacking the amended income tax passed last session, which increased the tax paid by thousands of persons with comparatively small incomes, while Gov. Zimmerman is pointing out that the measure got overwhelming majorities in both houses, so why hold him to blame.

Economic changes in Wisconsin since La Folletteism came in, with the election of the late "Fighting Bob" as governor in 1900 are being studied. Generally Wisconsin is regarded as primarily an agricultural state. But for the last thirty-five years the value of industrial products has exceeded that of agricultural products.

In 1921 the gross income of Wisconsin farms was placed at $390,000,000 while as to industries, the value added by manufacturing was $774,000,000. The full value of industrial products was $1,859,000,000.

Farm Income from Cream.

Agriculture in Wisconsin is organized around the dairying industry—half the gross farm income comes from monthly milk and cream checks. The dairy cow likewise is industrialized on the farm.

As the premier dairying state, Wisconsin produces 85 per cent of America's factory cheese, 12 per cent of the nation's butter, 37 per cent of the condensed milk and four per cent of all the ice cream. The state stands first in cheese production and third in butter output.

Back in 1900, Wisconsin ranked ninth among the states in value of industrial products, in 1910 it was in eighth place, but in 1920 it had dropped to tenth place. The industrialists attribute this to more favorable opportunities afforded manufacturers in other states, and to the drag of the tax situation on expansion.

Helps Reporters Out of Their Dilemma.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
(Picture on back page.)

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Hampton Bays, Long Island, N. Y.,
July 29.—[Special.]—Like Huck Finn in the raft, Al Smith just lazed along today.

No public man I have ever followed as through dull care to the winds with a surfer's aim.

Basking voluptuously in the sunlight and shadows that dappled the lawn of this ancient rendezvous of sportsmen, the title deeds of which date from the reign of Queen Anne, the governor cheerfully admitted either complete ignorance or a little knowledge concerning these phases of a prominent contest which, in his opinion, has not even begun yet.

1. Speaking campaign: Hasn't given a thought to it yet.

2. Campaign visit to California:
Maybe, maybe not. Doesn't know yet.

3. Not worried about alleged Democratic break-up of the solid south.

4. Hasn't decided yet whom he prefers as his successor in the government of New York since his first choice, Owen D. Young, has said he won't take the nomination.

5. Nothing at all to say "down here" about William Allen White's charges that Al Smith was a docile
Tammany minion as a young man.

6. Doesn't know anything about a conference on farm relief in which he is scheduled to participate with Democratic and farm leaders this week in New York.

7. Will be at his desk in Albany next Monday morning.

8. Thinks he may "wind up as a reporter yet."

Has One Sure Vote—His Son's.

Al Smith announced today a vote for himself for President that he is reasonably sure of.

It will be the vote of his son,
Arthur, who will be 21 years old Aug.
10. He has told his father that he will cast his first vote for Al Smith.

Young Arthur is also the father of a family, having two bonnie boys. If Arthur intended to vote for Herbert Hoover, Al Smith would not mind that so much as if Arthur intended not to vote at all.

Far from resenting questions this day, the governor invited the correspondents to "bait him with what and why."

Then came the question about
"broad outlines of his speaking campaign." Would he sketch that campaign?

"I haven't even thought about it, it can't happen for two months. A man would have a particularly idle brain that would speculate on something that doesn't happen for two months."

An effort was made to worry him into forecasting his speech of acceptance by telling him how much space the newspapers the correspondents with Herbert Hoover are getting with their forecasts of the Quaker's speech.

Not Trapped into Forecasts.

The excellency of the Empire state was not befuddled for an instant. He

Manchuria and South China Combine; Ignore Japanese

BY JOHN POWELL.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

SHANGHAI, July 30.—The Chinese authorities, both of the Nationalist government and Manchuria, have agreed to ignore Japan's warning to Gen. Chang Hsueh-liang, son and successor of the late Manchurian dictator, Chang Tso-lin, against joining the Nationalist government. This was indicated in a declaration by Gen.
Chiang Kai-shek, Nationalist generalissimo, at Nanking today, to the effect that an agreement had been reached by which the three eastern provinces of Manchuria will cooperate with the Nationalist government.

Gen. Chiang's statement did not give the details, which he reserved for a confidential report to the Nationalist government, but Chinese newspapers state that a compromise was reached by which Manchuria will join the Nationalist government, obey the mandates of Nanking and ultimately unfurl the Nationalist flag.

The flag matter, however, is held in abeyance for the present, owing to the Japanese ultimatum.

Russian Influence Hinted.

Several representatives from Manchuria arrived in Nanking today for the purpose of a consultation with the Nationalist government. Some of them represent the Sino-Russian Chinese Eastern railway. This led to the belief here that soviet Russia is secretly supporting the program for the unification of Manchuria with China in order to offset the Japanese influence in south Manchuria, which opposes unification.

The Italian government note protesting against the Nationalist government's action in terminating the Sino-
Italian treaty, was handed to Foreign Minister C. T. Wank today.

from a geographical standpoint."

Well, was he going to campaign as far west as California?

"I wouldn't say I will do that, because I don't know."

Again that ancient theme, the alleged break-up of the solid south was broached, and was that a cause for worry?

With a teasing grin the candidate let the reporters simmer in their own questions for thirty seconds, finally saying, with a gasp:

"Well, why don't you ask me if I am worried about the south?"

"No," with a shout.

He Turns Reporter.

Then, still quizzing us, he added:
"Now let me be a reporter, like I was yesterday."

"Shoot."

Then Al Smith, with an air of heavy responsibility, said:

"When the governor was asked by the newspaper representatives whether he was worried about the south, the governor promptly answered 'No.'"

With an air of much complacency,
he added:

"I'll wind up as a reporter yet."

One of the soured young men of our guild said:

"Your worst Republican enemy wouldn't wish you that."

The governor replied:

"O, I don't know; I don't see any

SIX VICTORIOUS MONTHS for THE VICTORY SIX

When the Victory Six was announced six months ago it was the talk of the town.

What would it look like? What would it do? Would it be different from other cars? In what way? And so on.

Then the public saw the Victory Six!

Its freshness of design was a revelation. It was different.
Like no other car.

Rakish and trim—low and graceful—smart hued and colorful—it captured the eye. Immediately.

Look again. Wider seats—more leg space. Big! Roomy!

Then it proved, in operation and performance, the promise suggested by its beauty.

Swift pick-up—smoothness—speed.

Dodge Brothers dependability again!

It was a great car then; it is an even greater car now.

It has stood the test.

Each month has seen a substantial increase in Victory
Six sales.

Not because of what we have been saying for six months.
Or because of what we say now.

But because of what the Victory Six is.

The snappiest, best looking, speediest car in its class.

A car you should try out—now—yourself at the wheel

NOBILE DENIES HONOR OF ITALY NEEDS SALVATION

Has No Plans for New Expedition.

BULLETIN.
NUREMBERG, Germany, July 30.—(U.P.)—A large crowd boomed and hissed Gen. Nobile and his companions today as they passed through here en route to Rome.

COPENHAGEN, July 30.—(U.P.)—The newspaper Morgen Bladet says that while Gen. Umberto Nobile was here with the survivors of his polar expedition he answered at least one question relating to the disaster. A reporter for the Morgen Bladet inquired whether the report was correct that he contemplated another north pole expedition "to reestablish Italy's honor."

The general's features hardened and his eyes flashed wrathfully as he replied with scorn:
"The honor of Italy? So they say the honor of Italy must be reestablished? But that is not necessary. The honor of Italy is intact. No, I have made no further plans."

Demonstrator Is Arrested.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MUNICH, July 30.—An Italian who tried to demonstrate against Gen. Nobile and his aides in the Munich station late tonight was arrested by police while the Italian colony was celebrating the explorer's arrival.

The Italians showered their countrymen with flowers, while in the background the Munich population was hissing the explorers. Big stunts of Munich beer were served to the travelers with Natalie Cecconi winning special applause from the crowd for her drinking capacity.

Gen. Nobile paid no attention to that part of the demonstration which was against him and left the train to talk with a number of his countrymen. Protected by armed railway police Gen. Umberto Nobile and his comrades of the ill-fated north pole expedition are crossing Germany in a special car obtained for them by Premier Mussolini.

Armed Police Guard Way.

Armed police were at every station ready to battle unruly mobs. The leader of the Italians who several months ago left Germany acclaimed as hero, passed through the country unnoticed on this trip. Though he is bitter and angry by his experience, his spirit is not broken.

"My time to speak has not come yet, but it will come soon," he told this Tribune correspondent, who travels in the same train.

At 6:10 this morning the special car entered Germany on the ferry from Copenhagen to Warnemunde. No crowd—only a few newspaper men at the station stared at the draw curtains of the special car, while Prof. Behounek, Czech-Slovakian meteorologist, slept out and with his sister took a train to Berlin.

"The Italians and I have separated with the best friendship," Prof.

MRS. J. J. MITCHELL LINDY'S PASSENGER ON HOP TO GRAND CANYON

Los Angeles, Cal., July 30.—[Special.]—Charles A. Lindbergh flew here unannounced from Santa Barbara, Cal., with Mrs. John J. Mitchell, the former Lolita Armour of Chicago, and Miss Betty Aul as companions.

Miss Aul is daughter of the superintendent of Mr. Mitchell's estate. The flier and the two women hurried from the plane to a taxi at the local airport but Col. Lindbergh and Mrs. Mitchell returned and continued on to San Diego. The flyer lost his way for some time in a fog while en route here. He will fly Mrs. Mitchell eastward to the Grand Canyon tomorrow, where she will meet Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mitchell, on their way west from Chicago.

Behounek said. He vehemently defended Gen. Nobile and the Italians, who, he said, "have been deeply wronged by international public opinion." Prof. Behounek will write his memoirs of the expedition, he said. "They probably will be different from those of Gen. Nobile, but it must be remembered that we view events from different standpoints."

Mrs. C. W. Gray Files Suit for Husband's Insurance

Mrs. Johanna M. Gray, widow of Charles W. Gray, president of the Yellow Cab company, filed a $50,000 damage suit in the circuit court yesterday against the Pennsylvania Mutual Life Insurance company. She alleges that the company has failed to pay a life insurance policy due to her because of her husband's death. Mr. Gray was insured for $25,000 by the insurance company on Nov. 8, 1918, and since his death, Dec. 25, 1927, the insurance company has failed and refused to pay the policy to Mrs. Gray, its beneficiary, the bill alleges. Mrs. Gray asks for interest and the principal of the policy.

YOUNG ELOPERS SEIZED HERE ON PARENTS' WIRE

George Rymal, 18 years old, 19444 Andover street, Detroit, who says he is the son of a millionaire real estate dealer, and Miss Alice Yeager, 17 years old, who makes the claim that she is the daughter of a wealthy father in Newark, N. J., were arrested on telegraphic requests of their parents last night. Detectives Bingham and Puerer found them together in a cheap hotel room at 1212 South Wabash avenue.

Rymal said that he and the girl met in Miami, Fla., last winter while both families were enjoying the balmy tropical air. Early in the summer, he added, his parents took him to their summer cottage at Toronto, Ont. "I got homesick for Alice," he asserted, "so I sent her a message to join me in Canada. She bummed rides in automobiles to get there. We came to Chicago on a train."

The youth was held at the detective bureau and the girl at the juvenile detention home pending the arrival of their relatives.

Joan Bennett's Story of Cruelty Wins Divorce

Los Angeles, Cal., July 30.—[Special.]—After testifying that her husband frequently became intoxicated and struck her, Mrs. Joan Bennett Fox, screen actress and daughter of Richard Bennett, actor, won a divorce from John Marion Fox today.

COMING TO THE GRANADA THIS SATURDAY

ANOTHER GREAT

SOUND PICTURE

"THE LION AND THE MOUSE"

This powerful drama of modern life, in which LIONEL BARRYMORE, MAY McAVOY, ALEC FRANCIS and WILLIAM COLLIER JR. will be seen and heard, is undoubtedly the most tremendous piece of acting yet brought to the public by either the screen or stage. It rips at the emotions like no other SOUND PICTURE has ever done. MARKS BROS. are pioneers in perfected talking pictures; their pictures really talk. The public may depend upon the accuracy of their statements.

LET THERE BE NO MISTAKE!

The term "SOUND PICTURES," now used for the first time by MARKS BROS., represents motion pictures in which the characters talk, where there is musical accompaniment, and when the performance is given over perfected equipment in an acoustically perfect theater.

THE TERM "SOUND PICTURES" WAS ORIGINATED TO PREVENT CONFUSION BETWEEN OUR EQUIPMENT AS AGAINST IMPERFECT TEMPORARY INSTALLATION.

WE TRUST THAT THIS TERM WILL NOT BE USED BY OTHERS.

FRANCE REPELS U. S. TEAM, 4-1, TO KEEP DAVIS CUP

Cochet Whips Tilden; Hennessey Loses.

By Henry Wales.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Picture on back page.)
PARIS, July 30.—France today won the Davis cup for another year, four matches to one, when Henri Cochet beat William T. Tilden II., and Rene Lacoste defeated John Hennessey in the final singles encounters. Cochet won in straight sets at 6-7, 8-6, 6-4, while Lacoste's margin of victory was 6-1, 6-1, 7-6, 7-6.

Cochet adopted Lacoste's system, smacking back and popping over easy, answering everything Tilden gave him and rolling up point after point through his careful play against the Bill's smashing, driving attack. Only occasionally did Cochet depart from the defensive, boring in with grinding force and startling suddenness. The transition usually caught the American star unexpectedly.

Lacoste Pounds Baseline.
Lacoste pursued his usual policy of pounding the baseline, principally in his opponent's backhand corner, and Hennessey immediately followed suit, pounding back on Rene's baseline. Lacoste was superb at the net, however, while Hennessey did not fare so well at close quarters.

Tilden showed fatigue as a result of yesterday's doubles, when he carried Francis Hunter through, deliberately giving away points to Cochet today. Tilden's lone chance came in the second set when he worked up a lead of 5-2. In the eighth game, Cochet stiffened, winning Tilden's service, and grabbing the next three games in a row. Tilden missed set point four times.

Hennessey Wins First Set.
Hennessey captured the opening set from Lacoste, taking the last three games in a row and breaking through Lacoste's service in the eighth. Lacoste ran through the next, only giving away his own service in the second game. In the third set, Lacoste broke through in the tenth, and won the set when Hennessey drove into the net in the twelfth.

Hennessey won the first two games in the fourth set, but Lacoste failed to pull the set out of the fire. Lacoste's coolness in critical moments, due to his greater experience, won for him. Otherwise the pair were evenly matched.

Waters Floors Larrabee to Win Decision
BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Mike Waters, California lightweight, won the decision over Frank Larrabee of the west side in the win of Promoter Mike Malloy's boxing show at the Midway Gardens last night. Each weighed 133½ pounds.

The card of ten four round fights attracted a gathering of 2,000 to the midside arena. Receipts were $1,500.
Waters won by clean punching in every round. Larrabee's best blows were right hand wallop to the kidney. He was wild at times and Mike caught most of his punches on his forearms. In the opening round Waters scored a knockdown with a right cross, but Larrabee was up before a count was made. It was the only solid blow landed.

In the semi-windup Sandy Garrison of Chicago was given the decision over Ted Seymour of Biloxi, Miss. They met at 147 pounds.
In the other fights Russell Buelick whipped Joe Greb, Eddie Walsh won from Sammy Adcock, Dick Earle and Sammy Curtis went four rounds to a draw, Jackie Reynolds won from Santo Reid, Herschie Wilson took the decision from Morris Gransberg, Vir Merlo stopped Kid Natcho in the first round and Paul Panaleo knocked out Jack Anthony in the opening session.

SPIKESMEN FOR GEIE SPOKE OUT OF TURN, IT SEEMS

Tuney Talks; Hints He Will Fight Again.

BY VESTBROOK PEGLER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, July 30.—Several of Gene Tunney's most glib spokesmen were out on a limb dangling over considerable expanses of space when Mr. Tunney finished speaking for himself at afternoon. Returning from a week among the spokesmen in Westchester county, Mr. Tunney hooked an elbow over the top of a dais in his suite at the Biltmore, crossed one leg over the other in an attitude generally resembling that of an ancient drinker in the days of the saloon, and talked for two hours this effect:

1. He wasn't thinking of entering the priesthood, although holy orders presented a passing temptation him some time ago.
2. He had no intention and was furthest from his present plans.
3. He desired to fly to the south pole with Commander Byrd.
4. He might one day write a book about prize fighting, but that this was a work for the distant future he wouldn't want to undertake until he had placed his prize fighting career behind him.

His Announcement Today.
From his last remark it was inferred that he had decided not to retire yet, but he coyly refused to be led about that. He is saving his announcement as to retirement until the documents, tomorrow when he will be host at luncheon at Rickard, William Muldoon of the New York prize fight commission and the New York prize fight reports.

At sent, Tunney is under contract to Rickard's corporation to fight some next year for a certain amount of money and Gene admitted that he did not fight some body, agreed that the documents, Rickard and his firm would be entitled an indemnity from him in the amount of the probable profit. Inasmuch as the profit on the prize fight last Thursday evening between Gene and Thomas Heene of New Zealand was just $155,000 short of net, the indemnity, if calculated on this basis, would not be a small sum.

The time has come, however, to decide whether newspaper writing, per se, or any other indirect benefit, violates amateurism—in which event he will have few amateurs in the first fight. If not, Tilden should be unannounced.

"This is a Difficult Course."
Joe Mackey is responsible for this one. A chap who had talked much of his golf skill was invited to a local course. After many preliminary flourishes at the first tee he whiffed three times in succession. Gathering him self together for the fourth effort he turned to his host and remarked: "This is a difficult course."

The Olympic games, we understand, are intended to promote international amity and good will. O, well, there might have been three fights instead of only two on the opening day.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

AMATEUR TENNIS.
WHEN the American Davis cup team returns home it remains to be determined whether Big Bill Tilden is tainted by professionalism through his newspaper writing. It is no secret that a certain coterie in the United States Lawn Tennis association would like to "get" Tilden. He has thumbed his nose at them too many times for them to forgive or forget. Chicago's representatives usually have been with Big Bill. The player-writer role which Tilden is accused of violating seems illogical to us. It permits a player to write of tennis in general, but not of the tourney in which he is competing. Isn't that splitting hairs pretty fine? One might favor the rule on general principles, but not from the standard of amateurism solely.

When Tilden did write of current tourneys, before the present rule, we did not feel we were getting his real opinions. Obviously, as a matter of good taste, he could not belittle opponents and he could not speak too highly of his own efforts. At times, therefore, his writing veered toward wishy-washiness. . . .
The time has come, however, to decide whether newspaper writing, per se, or any other indirect benefit, violates amateurism—in which event he will have few amateurs in the first fight. If not, Tilden should be unannounced.

THOMAS AND SOX DINE GRIFFS ON GOOSE EGGS, 6-0

Hunnelfield Hits Homer with Two on Base.

Shutout for Tommy

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Two base hits—Kamm, Berg, Clancy, Earl. Three base hits—Clancy. Home run—Hunnelfield. Sacrifices—Cliffett [2], Mostil. Double plays—Hunnelfield, Clancy, Clancy. Bases on balls—Thomas, 2; Braxton, 2. Umpires—Guthrie and Hildebrand. Time—1:18.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
Tommy Thomas yesterday enabled the journalistic praisers of the Black-burned White Sox to emerge from the dark alleys and other obscure hiding places the authors had been inhabiting for a week. Tommy beat the Washington Senators, 6 to 0, and it took him but one hour and eighteen minutes to do it.

Tommy's performance afforded not the only note of cheer to harassed and chagrined observers, however. There was Bill Hunnelfield, for instance. Bill knocked Braxton, the Washington ace, for a homer with two on in the fifth. Also there was Bud Clancy who, with a triple, drove Bill Kamm in with the first run of the contest, the one that would have been enough to win the ball game. He scored the second run a minute later.

Play Errorless Ball.
All the boys played errorless ball which, naturally, gave the spectacle more class, for example, than one of the Sunday games, in which there were nine errors. Taken by and large, it was a pleasant afternoon for every one except those who do the banking. The crowd indeed was small.

The victory process started in the second with one down. Kamm doubled and trotted home on Clancy's triple to right. Bud scored on Clancy's sacrifice fly.
Things went along in routine fashion after the second until the fifth when Clancy beat out a punt past the pitcher. With the hit and run in effect, Berg doubled to center, enabling Clancy to score from first. Thomas walked. Mostil moved up the two base runners with a sacrifice. Then Hunnelfield, batting right-handed as is his wont when facing southpaws, socked one into the left field stands scoring Berg and Thomas ahead of him. Metzler and Barrett were easy outs.

Yields Seven Hits.
The only Senator threat of the game came in the first inning and it wasn't anything to get scared about, the way Tommy was feeling. Barnes engaged the activities by striking out, but Rice walked. West forced Rice and then went from first to third when Bluge singled. The flurry was over when Bluge forced Judge for the third out.

Thomas allowed seven hits, but no two came in the same inning and the only one that went for extra bases was Earl's double in the second inning. Little Moose Walsh, whose turn it is today, will not get to pitch against the Senators this trip. The kid has developed a sore arm—nothing serious, just a plain sore arm. As a result Ted Blankenship will be Blackburne's choice in the final with the Griffs. Old Man Zachary probably will throw for the visitors.

Homer Gives U. of Illinois Nine Victory at St. Paul.
St. Paul, Minn., July 30.—[Special.]—Brown's home run with two on bases in the first inning gave the University of Illinois baseball team a 3 to 0 victory over the Northern Pacific here today.

CHICAGO'S STAR

ELIZABETH ROBINSON.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
AMSTERDAM, July 30.—Elizabeth Robinson, the blonde Chicago girl who started track competition just a few months ago, is one of the six qualifiers in the finals of the 100 meter dash which will be decided tomorrow. Miss Robinson won her heat in the semi-finals this afternoon tying the accepted world record of 25 seconds. In winning the heat Miss Robinson defeated Myrtle Cook, the Canadian champion who was the favorite to win the title. Her victory stamped her as the star of the American women's team.

Canada qualified three for the finals and Germany two. This is the first Olympic competition to include a list of events for the fair sex and the fans indicated that they liked it.

Elizabeth Robinson is a member of the Illinois Women's Athletic club track team. She is 16 years of age and this is her first season of competition. In a race here just before the American final tryouts she was timed in 12 seconds for the 100 meters.

Cubs 'Amass' Four Hits, So Giants Win, 4-1

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, July 30.—There was none of that tingling spirit of Cubs-Giants strife when the two old foes met at the Polo grounds this afternoon and Jim Lefty Faulkner was the reason. Throwing with such marked ease that he appeared to have nothing beyond the courage to work, the tall fellow formerly with the Toronto club laughed off the Chicagoans with four hits and the Giants captured their third victory in the series by 4 to 1, at the same time pressing McCarthy's talent down into fourth place.

The complications caused by Faulkner's southpawing were aggravated by the persistency and viciousness with which the New York fellows went after Pat Malone of speed ball fame. They expressed their fondness for his pitching in the form of ten hits, two of which were homers by Frank Hogan and Mel Ott.

All this happened in six innings at which time Chief McCarthy tried a pinch hitter but he whiffed and Ed Holley pitched out the last two rounds because 8,000 customers wanted to see the full nine chapters.

Cuyler Hits Home Run.
With hits so rare not many of the Cubs enjoyed the privilege of looking over the scenery from third base. English got as far as second in the initial round and after this nobody even reached first until Hartnett hit him up a peg. Only one other Chicagoan went that far, this being Kiki Cuyler, who provided a bit of harmless amusement with a home run in the sixth chapter. Unless the attack can be improved upon overnight there is

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
AMSTERDAM, Holland, July 30.—The highly touted American track and field team folded up and collapsed this afternoon. Before a day which dopers confidently predicted would be a great triumph for the Yankee Olympic athletes had ended, they had been decisively beaten in the finals of the 100 meter dash, 400 meter hurdles, and lost the hammer throw for the first time in the history of the Olympic games.

What was a sorry day for the Americans proved a great one for the British empire. Percy Williams, the 19-year old Canadian, captured the 100 meter dash, with Jack London of Great Britain second. Lammers of Germany was third, Frank Wykoff fourth, and Legg of South Africa fifth, with Bob McAllister last.

However, the biggest upset of the day occurred in the finals of the 400 meter hurdles, when Lord David Burghley of Great Britain flashed across the finish line two feet ahead of Frank Cuhel in 53.5 seconds. Morgan Taylor of the Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, the world record holder and winner of the event four years ago at Paris, finished third, a full foot behind the University of Iowa captain.

Cuhel Gets Poor Start.
Cuhel probably would have won the event had it not been for his failure to get a good start. He drew the pole, and was farthest from the starter, who stood 30 yards away. When the gun went off he was caught flatfooted, losing what Coach Lawson Robertson estimated was a full second.

The Iowa made a desperate effort to catch up. Half way around the last curve he passed Peterson of Sweden, and Taylor, and was only a fraction of a second behind his titled competitor over the final hurdle. But the handicap was too much, and the Oxford university star beat him in the sprint for the tape.

Only the half milers saved the day from being a complete rout of the American team, in the semi-final heat, which, unfortunately, was the best of the best middle distance runners together. Lloyd Hahn ran a great race to beat Phil Edwards of Canada and Seraphin Martin, the French world record holder, who finished in that order.

Hahn, clocked in 1 minute 53.5 seconds, won with a brilliant sprint in which he pulled up from third, to pass Martin and Edwards on the home stretch, breaking the tape four feet ahead of the Canadian.

Peltzer Falls to Qualify.
Paul Martin, the Swiss, and Johnny Stitt of the Chicago Athletic association, who finished fourth and fifth, respectively, both clocked faster time than the winner of the other two heats, but only the first three qualified.

Earl Fuller and Ray Watson of the I. A. C. both qualified in the other heats. Fuller was first in the initial heat, which saw the elimination of Dr. Otto Peltzer, the American winning 1 minute 53.5 seconds. Lowe, the 1924 winner, was second and Keller of France third. Dr. Peltzer was fifth.

Byhlen of Sweden won the second heat in 1 minute 53.5 seconds, Watson finishing second and Englehard of Germany third.

The finals will be run tomorrow, with a possibility for a new world's record, despite the slow track from Vancouver, whom nobody heard about before, won his heat yesterday, winning the Olympic record for 100 meters. He proved the dark horse of the day, as did Abrahams of Great Britain four years ago in the Paris meet.

He won the final by a good two feet in 10.4 seconds and was out in front in the last 30 yards to pass McAllister, the English Negro, tried desperately to pull up even.

Irishman Wins Hammer.
The Americans were hammy in it, Wykoff running last until he came up in the last 30 yards to pass McAllister and Legg, but finishing a good yard behind the winner, and inches back of Lammers.
Earlier in the afternoon McAllister beat Williams by half a foot in the first heat of the semi-finals, tying

PARIS, July 30.—France today won the Davis cup for another year, four matches to one, when Henri Cochet beat William T. New York, July 30.—Several of Gene Tunney's most glib spokesmen were left out on a limb dangling over considerable expanses of space when Mr. Tunney finished speaking for himself this afternoon. Returning from a week-end among the spokesmen in Westchester county, Mr. Tunney hooked an elbow over the top of a dresser in his suite at the Biltmore, crossed one leg over the other in an attitude generally resembling that of an endurance drinker in the days of the open season, and talked for two hours to this effect:

1. That he wasn't thinking of entering the priesthood, although holy orders had presented a passing temptation to him some time ago.

2. That matrimony was even further from his present plans.

3. That he had no intention and as little desire to fly to the south pole with Commander Byrd.

4. That he might one day write a book about prize fighting, but that this was a work for the distant future because he wouldn't want to undertake it until he had placed his prize fighting career behind him.

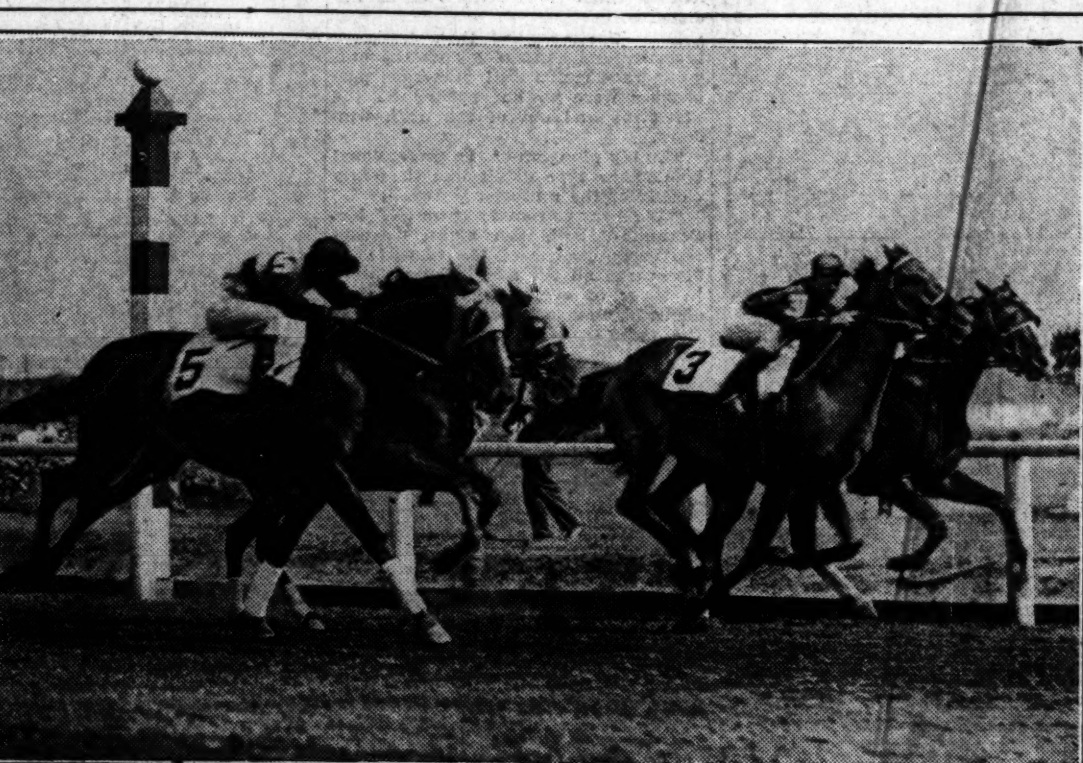

Makes Announcement Today.
From this last remark it was inferred that he had decided not to retire just yet, but he coyly refused to make any announcement as to retirement or the nonretirement until tomorrow, when he will be host at luncheon to Tex Rickard, William Mulvaney of the New York prize fight commission, and the New York prize fight reporters.

At present, Tunney is under contract to Rickard's corporation to fight somebody next year for a certain minimum amount of money and Gene admitted that if he did not fight somebody, as agreed in the documents, Rickard and his firm would be entitled to an indemnity from him in the amount of the probable profit. Inasmuch as the profit on the prize fight of last Thursday evening between Tunney and Thomas Heeney of New Zealand was just $15,000 short of nothing, none of the money that had been calculated on this basis, would not subject Mr. Tunney to any noticeable financial distress. However, that is a problem that will keep.

Friends' Statements "Too Strong."
Mr. Tunney was pained to have to unsay some of the things that had been said on his behalf by his various spokesmen, including some of his suburban friends who come under the loose classification of millionaires.

The first spokesman to be left out in the ring for the last time. This was an emphatic statement last Saturday to the effect that, regardless of what Tunney himself might say to the contrary, Gene Tunney had fought in the ring for the last time. This seemed to contain a delicate reflection on the young man's veracity, but Gene did not seem to take offense at that, indicating that there are some spokesmen among the things who are privileged to call him a liar in a respectful manner.

LONG SHOT PLAYERS CHEERED THIS FINISH

Hydromel, No. 5, ridden by Willie Garner, won the Greater Chicago purse by two lengths as the summer turf season opened at Hawthorne yesterday. When this picture was taken it looked like Flat Iron, No. 3, might win by a head from Sir Harry, which is next to the rail. But Hydromel soon took the lead and caused the long shot players to celebrate when he paid $25.50 in the two dollar mutuels.

AMATEUR TENNIS.
WHEN the American Davis cup team returns home it remains to be determined whether Bill Tilden is tainted by professional writing. It is no secret that a certain coterie in the United States Lawn Tennis association would like to "get" Tilden. He has thumbed his nose at them too many times for them to forgive or forget. Chicago's representatives usually have been with Big Bill. The player-writer rule which Tilden is accused of violating seems illogical to us. It permits a player to write of tennis in general, but not of the tourney in which he is competing. Isn't that splitting hairs pretty fine? One might favor the rule on general principles, but not from the standard of amateurism solely.

When Tilden did write of current tourneys, before the present rule, we did not feel we were getting his real opinions. Obviously, as a matter of good taste, he could not speak too highly of his own efforts. At times, therefore, his writing veered toward wish-washiness.

The time has come, however, to decide whether newspaper writing, per se, or any other indirect benefit, vitiates tennis amateurism—in which event we will have few amateurs in the first flight. If not, Tilden should be unmanacled.

"This Is a Difficult Course."
Joe Markley is responsible for this one. A chap who had talked much of his golf skill was invited to a local course. After many preliminary flourishes at the first tee he whiffed three times in succession. Gathering himself together for the fourth effort he turned to his host and remarked: "This is a difficult course."

The Olympic games, we understand, are intended to promote international amity and good will. O, well, there might have been three fights instead of only two on the opening day.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
Tommy Thomas yesterday enabled the journalistic praisers of the Black-burned White Sox to emerge from the dark alleys and other obscure hiding places the authors had been inhabiting for a week. Tommy beat the Washington Senators, 6 to 0, and it took him but one hour and eighteen minutes to do it.

Tommy's performance afforded not the only note of cheer to harassed and chagrined observers, however. There was Bill Hunnfield, for instance. Bill, nicknamed Braxton, the Washington ace, for a homer with two on in the fifth. Also there was Bud Clancy, who, with a triple, drove Bill Kamm into the first run of the contest, the one that would have been enough to win the ball game. He scored the second run a minute later.

Play Errorless Ball.
All the boys played errorless ball which, naturally, gave the spectators more cause, for example, than one of the Sunday games, in which there were nine errors. Taken by and large, it was a pleasant afternoon for every except those who do the banking. The crowd indeed was small.

The victory process started in the second with one down. Kamm doubled and trotted home on Clancy's triple to right. Bud scored on Clancy's sacrifice fly.

Things went along in routine fashion after the second until the fifth when Clancy beat out a bunt past the pitcher. Bill hit and run in effect. Berg doubled to center, enabling Clancy to score from first. Thomas walked. Mostil moved up the two base runners with a sacrifice. Then Hunnfield, batting right-handed as is his wont when facing southpaws, socked one into the left field stand, scoring Berg and Thomas ahead of him. Metzler and Barrett were easy outs.

Yields Seven Hits.
The only Senator threat of the game came in the first inning and it wasn't anything to get scared about, the way Tommy was feeling. Barnes opened the activities by striking out, but Rice walked. West forced Rice and then went from first to third when Judge singled. The surly was over when Blum forced Judge for the third out.

Thomas allowed seven hits, but no two came in the same inning and the Giants strike when the two old foes met at the Polo grounds this afternoon and Jim Lefty Faulkner was the reason. Throwing with such marked ease that he appeared to have nothing beyond the courage to work the tail fellow formerly with the Toronto club laughed off the Chicagoans with four hits and the Giants captured their third victory in the series by 4 to 1.

CHICAGO'S STAR

ELIZABETH ROBINSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
AMSTERDAM, July 30.—Elizabeth Robinson, the blonde Chicago girl who started track competition just a few months ago, is one of the six qualifiers in the finals of the 100 meter dash which will be decided tomorrow. Miss Robinson won her heat in the semi-finals this afternoon tying the accepted world record of 12 2-5 seconds.

In winning the heat Miss Robinson defeated Myrtle Cook, the Canadian champion who was the favorite to win the title. Her victory stamped her as the star of the American women's team.

Canada qualified three for the finals and Germany two. This is the first Olympic competition to include a list of events for the fair sex and the fans indicated they liked it.

Elizabeth Robinson is a member of the Illinois Women's Athletic club track team. She is 16 years of age and this is her first season of competition. In a race here just before the American final tryouts she was timed in 12 seconds for the 100 meters.

Cubs 'Amass' Four Hits, So Giants Win, 4-1

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, July 30.—There was none of that tingling wit of the Giants strike when the two old foes met at the Polo grounds this afternoon and Jim Lefty Faulkner was the reason. Throwing with such marked ease that he appeared to have nothing beyond the courage to work the tail fellow formerly with the Toronto club laughed off the Chicagoans with four hits and the Giants captured their third victory in the series by 4 to 1.

At the same time pressing McCarthy's talent down into fourth place. The complications caused by Faulkner's persistence and viciousness with which the New York fellows went after Pat Malone of speed ball fame. They expressed their fondness for his pitching in the form of ten hits, two of which were homers by Frank Hogan and Mel Ott.

All this happened in six innings at which time Chief McCarthy tried a pinch hitter but he whiffed and Ed Holley pitched out the last two rounds because $400 customers wanted to see the full nine chapters.

Cuyler Hits Home Run.
With hits so rare not many of the Cubs enjoyed the privilege of looking over the scenery from third base. English got as far as second in the initial round and after this nobody even reached first until Hartnett doubled in the fifth. An out moved him up a peg. Only one other Chicagoan went that far, this being Kiki Cuyler, who provided a bit of harmless amusement with a home run in the sixth chapter. Unless the attack can be improved upon overnight there is

BY WILLIAM SHRIVER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
AMSTERDAM, Holland, July 30.—The highly touted American track and field team folded up and collapsed this afternoon. Before a day which dopers confidently predicted would be a great triumph for the Yankee Olympic athletes had ended, they had been decisively beaten in the finals of the 100 meter dash, 400 meter hurdles, and lost the hammer throw for the first time in the history of the Olympic games.

What was a sorry day for the Americans proved a great one for the British empire. Percy Williams, the 19 year old Canadian, captured the 100 meter dash, with Jack London of Great Britain second. Lammer's of Germany was third. Frank Wykoff of the United States was fourth, with Bob McAllister last.

However, the biggest upset of the day occurred in the finals of the 400 meter hurdles, when the Canadian Burghley of Great Britain flashed across the finish tape two feet ahead of Frank Cuhel in 52 3-5 seconds. Morgan Taylor of the Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, the world record holder and winner of the event four years ago at Paris, finished third, a full foot behind the University of Iowa captain.

Cuhel Gets Poor Start.
Cuhel probably would have won the event had it not been for his failure to get a good start. He drew a hole, and was farthest from the starter, who stood 30 yards away. When the gun went off he was caught flatfooted, losing what Coach Lawrence Robertson estimated was a full second.

The Iowan made a desperate effort to catch up. Half way around the last curve he passed Peterson of Sweden, and Taylor, and was only a fraction of a second behind the American competitor over the final hurdle. The handicap was too much, and the Oxford university star beat him in the sprint for the tape.

Only the half miler saved the day from being a complete rout of the American team, in the semi-final heat which, unfortunately, drew four of the best middle distance runners together. Lloyd Hahn ran a great race to beat Phil Edwards of Canada and Seraphin Martin, the French world record holder, who finished in that order.

Hahn, clocked in 1 minute 52 3-5 seconds, won with a brilliant sprint in which he pulled out from third, to pass Martin and Edwards on the home stretch, breaking the tape four feet ahead of the Canadian.

Peltzer Falls to Quality.
Paul Martin, the Swiss, and Johnny Briggs of the Chicago Athletic association, who finished fourth and fifth, respectively, both clocked faster times than the winner of the other two heats, but only the first three qualified.

East Fuller and Ray Watson of the I. A. C. both qualified in the other heats. Fuller was first in the initial heat, which saw the elimination of Dr. Otto Peltzer, the American winning in 1 minute 55 3-5 seconds. Lower, the 1924 winner, was second and Keller of France third. Dr. Peltzer was fifth.

Byhlen of Sweden won the second heat in 1 minute 55 3-5 seconds. Watson finishing second and Englehard of Germany third.

The Olympic record of 10.34 seconds. He was the favorite before the finals started, but pulled a tendon 25 yards from the finish line.

Bracey and Russell both were eliminated in the semi-finals, which went in 10.34 seconds, London capturing the second one, in which Wyckoff barely qualified.

Until today the United States had won every 400 meter hurdle and hammer throw event since they started in the 1900 Olympics. This afternoon O'Callaghan, a husky Irishman, took first place in the hammer throw with a heave of 168 feet 7 1/2 inches, with Skold, the Swede, who is as broad as he is high, coping second with 168 feet 3 1/2 inches.

Edmund Black was third with 160 feet 10 1/2 inches; Poggioli of Italy was fourth; Gwynne fifth, and Connor sixth.

The American field team was eliminated in the semi-finals of Olympic fencing competition, but never gave a better account of themselves in international matches.

United States wrestlers in the Olympic catch-as-catch can preliminary today defeated opponents in all seven classes, and with two exceptions came through to the semi-final, which will be staged tomorrow.

Clarence Berryman of Oklahoma A. and M. and Lloyd Appleton of Cornell college, Iowa, defeated their first round opponents, but must engage in another preliminary bout tomorrow before advancing into the round before the finals. Berryman is competing in the 145 pound class and Appleton in the 155 pound division.

CHANCE SHOT CAPTURES $5,000 SARATOGA RACE

Saratoga, N. Y., July 30.—(AP)—A crowd of 15,000 J. E. Widener's Chance Shot, under the veteran rider, Earl Sande, scored an impressive victory in the Saratoga handicap at a mile and one-quarter here today. W. R. Coe's Black Maria was second and W. M. Jefford's Edith Cavell third.

The flash stakes, one of the oldest 2 year old events on the Saratoga program, was won by Jack High, which carried 125 pounds. Jack High defeated Battistelli Grap in the final stride of the 5 1/2 furlong race. In the final was third. The race was worth $5,025, and the time was 1:07.1-5.

Lloyd Leads City Amateur Golf Prelims

Edward Lloyd of Lincolnshire, yesterday led a field of 158 in the Chicago Amateur Golf tournament at Jackson Park with a score of 68.

The seventy players who scored 76's or better in yesterday's first round will continue the qualifying play today for the thirty-two places in the first match round tomorrow. A thirty-six hole final Saturday will decide the championship.

Heavy, slow rolling greens neutralized the effect of lightning-hot days.

The field, which is composed approximately of one-third private club players and two-thirds parks and daily fee golfers, with a sprinkling of out of town entrants, shot well below the marks of the previous twenty-three tournaments.

Lloyd scored four birdies on the long holes that offset his erratic work on the shorter ones. He was out in 34, which is par, and home also in 34, one under par. He had three birdies in a row on the fourteenth to sixteenth holes.

A stroke back of Lloyd were Earl Munson of Laramie, 36—33—69, and J. J. Jordan of Hickory Hills, 35—34.

Munson was never over par on the home nine and had two birdies for his 33. Pet Miller of Oak Hills had 36—34—70.

JOHN BULL'S NEW FIGHTING SHIPS FAST, POWERFUL

But They Cost More than Old Ones.

(Copyright, 1928, by The New York Times.)

LONDON, July 30.—With the completion of the five Kent class cruisers—the first to be built here under the Washington treaty limitations—details are now revealed which indicate that the new vessels are much longer and narrower but much shallower as a result of the growing effectiveness of under water attack by mines and torpedoes.

Although the standard displacement is 10,000 tons, the Kent cruisers will displace 13,500 tons at deep load, compared to 10,500 tons of the old Kent class and 15,370 tons of the Minotaur class—the last of the armored cruiser types which was launched in 1906. The new vessels are much longer and narrower but much shallower as a result of the growing effectiveness of under water attack by mines and torpedoes.

Increase Horsepower.
The horsepower has increased from 22,000 and 27,000 in the old Kent and Minotaur cruisers respectively, to 30,000 in the new.

The speed of 23 knots for the first type has been increased to 31½ knots for the new ships. At full speed, the new boats have a radius of 2,500 miles, compared to 1,500 miles of the old Kent and 1,400 miles of the Minotaur.

All guns in the new cruisers are mounted in turrets and can fire at an increased rate, while the control of fire is much improved and there is greater security for the turret crews. The weight of the broadside fire from the new cruisers is 2,048 pounds. This is more than twice the weight which could be fired at one broadside from the old Kent vessels, though it is less than the Minotaur's 2,520 pounds.

Increase Gun Range.
The eight inchers of the new Kents, however, have an extreme range of 25,000 yards compared to 15,500 and 17,000 of the old Kent and Minotaur respectively.

With an improved type of shell and bursting charge, it is calculated the broadside fire from the new cruisers would have far greater destructive effect than the larger of its two predecessors.

The armament of the new ships cost $1,000,000 compared to $295,000 in the old Kent and $1,940,000 in the Minotaur. Torpedoes in the new cruisers cost $12,500 compared to $2,750 and $2,900 in the old Kent and Minotaur respectively.

BRITISH PARTY BREACH WIDENED BY TARIFF ROW

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, July 30.—The rift in the ranks of the conservative party was widened today on the question of protection of the British iron and steel industries. A divided cabinet threatened the party with a repetition of the situation of 1923 when the party lost control in a battle over the same question.

The week end saw conflicting speeches by Sir William Joynson-Hicks, home secretary, who came out strongly in favor of protective tariff on the iron and steel industries, and by Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill, speaking in favor of free trade.

Chamberlain Talks Disarmament.
LONDON, July 30.—(AP)—Expressing the hope that the Kellogg pact, by which war would be outlawed as a national policy, will be "a most valuable security to peace," Sir Austen Chamberlain, today reviewed in the house of commons the progress of disarmament.

He announced that the government has had successful conversations with France on their differences over naval disarmament.

Wyoming Cowboy Leads in Rodeo Bronco Contests
Duff Aber of Wolf, Wyo., was the leading contestant for the cowboy's saddle bronco championship last night at the rodeo contests in Soldiers' field. He led with marksmanship of 300.

Shelton was second with 304 and Earl Thode third with 305. In the evening's contests for the bronco championship, M. J. McNeil was kicked by his horse and was taken to St. Luke's hospital for treatment. Josephine Wicks won the cowgirl's relay race with Tad Lucas second and Renie Shelton third. Chester Byers, champion trick and fancy rider, won the calf roping contest. His time was 20.14 seconds.

SEEKED FOR MISSING MAIL BOXES.
Two boxes, 30 years old, a house painter, living at 4904 West Twenty-sixth street, Chicago, was told by the police authorities yesterday by the Oak Park police after he had been pointed out as the man who had been riding a dog in the park in that suburb.

Here is why wise housewives use Black Flag Powder rather than liquid, to kill roaches, fleas, bed-bugs—and other crawling pests. These insects hide when you're around. The surest way to get them is to blow Black Flag Powder into cracks. When the bugs crawl out—they breathe the powder. And they are killed—quickly, surely! For Black Flag is the deadliest insect-killer made! Powder, 15 cents and up

Some prefer Powder to kill crawling pests—roaches, ants, etc.—and Black Flag Liquid to kill flying pests—flies, mosquitoes, etc.

Ancient Music of 1900's Gives Thrill to Elmer

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The Family Party program, from New York, through W-G-N, $20 to $30, was of anniversary character, recalling twenty-five years ago. To those of us who can roll the curtain back twenty-five years there was not a musical number presented that was not as familiar as A B C. Music in those days was not the universal thing it is today, but that music was much alive and had a catchy, melodic turn that sounds well in these days of jazz and syncopation.

Fully as enjoyable as the music itself was the announcer's contribution in which he recalled the history and mode of living twenty-five years ago. A few of his recollections were that "women's skirts reached within two inches of the ground"; "Lindbergh was a year old"; "an automobile crossed the continent in fifty-two days"; "radio passed law prohibiting automobiles from going faster than ten miles an hour, and requiring them to stop dead if a horse became skittish."

W-G-N's 9:30 to 10 "Chicagoand" program was a musical automobile tour to Gen. Grant's birthplace, Point Pleasant, O., and it was a delightful half hour filled to the full and overflowing with stirring military orchestral music.

The most serious contribution to radio last evening was Egon Kornau's sonata in C sharp minor for violin and piano, played by Harry Perkins and Carl Linner from WEBB, $20 to $50. It is a concert piece, very heavy, very modern, and which for complete comprehension requires two or three hearings.

The radio version of Verdi's "La Traviata," through WMAQ, $8 to $10, seemed very satisfactory. The many difficult coloratura notes were within the powers of Elsie Thiede, soprano.

There were three or four embarrassing typographical slips in yesterday morning's review, the principal one, however, was the statement that the "W-G-N's music room program's own record of conversation was broken."

This should have read that its record of conversation was broken.

Britain Acts to Send Its Jobless Army to Dominions

LONDON, July 30.—Action on providing overseas employment for jobless miners was definitely under way today after Lord Lovat, undersecretary of dominions and chairman of the overseas settlement committee, explained that the government has sanctioned a scheme providing the settlement of 25,000 miners and their dependents.

Lord Lovat will visit Canada, Australia, and New Zealand to discuss details with the dominion governments.

The solution of the unemployment problem by transporting miners in played out districts to the dominions, where men are needed for the exploitation of natural resources, was recommended some time ago. The government plan to bring the desired result involves preliminary training in this country with state aid in the form of expense grants.

"Must Provide Land."
"It is realized the movement can be effected only if land is provided," Lord Lovat said. "One of the objects of my tour is to discuss with the dominion governments the possibilities of providing facilities for British miners. I have received limited authority to negotiate the acquisition of various areas of land overseas, and I will endeavor to arrange with the dominion governments for the erection of cottages upon farms."

The government plans to establish an extra training camp to prepare men for the overseas settlement, the commons was told. Negotiations are under way with steamship companies to obtain lower rates for emigrants.

The government was approved in principle the making of advances of $500 to settlers from the United Kingdom, who have already worked a year or two for wages, in order to enable them to take up farms of their own.

Lord Lovat leaves for Canada Saturday and plans to reach Australia Oct. 22.

Protesting against reduction of relief paid to unemployed in Bethnal Green district, a crowd of 2,000 jobless men marched to the workhouse today and demanded the restoration of the former relief or admittance into the institution.

10,000 Harvest-Hands.
OTTAWA, Ont., July 30.—(AP)—Negotiations are in progress between the British and Canadian governments with respect to the proposed transfer of 10,000 single men from Great Britain to work in the harvest fields of western Canada. It is said that the department of immigration intends that the men shall come here only for temporary work.

Bandits Blow Two Safes in Theater, Flee with $250

After binding and gagging a janitor and his wife, two robbers early yesterday blew two safes in the Tilden theater at 4045 West North avenue and escaped with $250. Ernest Winterstein, the janitor, said that the men were waiting in the showhouse when he and his wife arrived at 8 a. m. to clean up. The cracksmen failed to reach an inner compartment in one of the safes, which contained $500 more. The janitor and his wife freed themselves a half hour after the men left.

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—

The upward movement in stock values which had been in progress for almost a fortnight was checked today by the rise in the demand money rate from the 5 1/2 per cent renewal figure to 6 per cent. This developed in the early afternoon as a consequence of the calling of some $30,000,000 in loans by banks in preparation for month-end needs.

Prior to the banking withdrawals, the stock market had held to its course toward higher levels but thereafter prices yielded throughout the general buying subsequently reduced to six points below yesterday's closing. But gains outnumbered reversals, running up to 7 1/2 points, while losses were moderate except in a few instances.

Easier Money Expected.

Trading was fairly brisk for most of the session, a total of some 1,800,000 shares changing hands. Market experts expect the flurry occasioned by the hardening of today's money market to be brief and say that an easier tone in both time and call money may be looked for within the next few days. Traders, however, may count on these easier conditions until the credit requirements incident to fall business expansion begin to make themselves felt.

A feature of the activity was the demand for merchandise shares. Montgomery Ward mounting to a new high record of 182 and closing at 181 1/2, up 4 points. Sears Roebuck and Kroger Grocery also spurred briskly, the former ending up at 18 1/2, up 3/4 points, and the Kroger shares at 10 1/2, up 1/4 points.

Railroad Shares Strong.

Railroad shares went ahead aggressively on predictions that car loadings will soon be making substantial gains over a year ago. Delaware & Hudson was up 5/8 points at the close, Chesapeake & Ohio showed a gain of 3/4, Erie preferred was up 3/4 and Northern Pacific 1 1/2 points.

General Motors went to 19 1/2, a new high for the movement, but sold off in the reaction to 19 1/2, which left it fractionally lower. Chrysler was in demand and was up 1 1/2 points. Hupp, Studebaker and Willys-Overland all had turns of activity. Hupp slid off more than a point in the late trading but the other two markets showed both managed to hold substantial gains at the close.

Airplane Shares Advance.

Buying went both Curtiss and Wright to materially higher levels during the forenoon but they were on the side of the list at the close of business. Midland Steel Products preferred at one time was up 7 points. It closed at 220, up 4 1/2.

Considerable interest was manifested in Eastman Kodak and at one time the stock was selling at 19 1/2, a new high under the present form of capitalization. It sagged toward the close, however, and the final sale was at 18 1/2, which represented a net loss of nearly two points for the day.

Among the oils, Atlantic Refining was the star performer, soaring three points to 15 1/2, the highest price it has attained since 1922.
